Newark-Paris Solo Flier Over Atlantic

New Jersey Man Hopes To Halve Lindbergh's Time

Lou Reichers Left Harbor Grace Early To-day on Hop to Dublin After Flying From Newark During the Night

BROKEN STABILIZER QUICKLY REPAIRED

Harbor Grace, Nfld., May 13.—Louis Reichers, New Jersey flier attempting a transatlantic solo flight, hopped from here for Dublin, Ireland, at 8:30 a.m., Newfoundland daylight time (4:30 a.m. Victoria time) to-day after effecting repairs to his stabilizer, broken in landing on his hop from Newark, N.J.

IRELAND WATCHES

Dublin, Irish Free State, May 13.—The weather outlook for Lou Reichers, making a solo flight from Newfoundland, is uncertain. Traffic reported threatened rain but no wind. The visibility was fair. Calm, which is in direct line between Newfoundland and Dublin, reported showers, with a slight wind and fair visibility. After a wireless talk with Harbor Grace, authorities of the Baldonnel aviation field said they expected the aviator to arrive at 2 a.m. Saturday (6:30 a.m. N.E.T. to-night). Plans were made for keeping the expected "crowd" in control and for fighting the field to enable a safe landing. (Turn to Page 5, Col. 4)

DETAILS OF CAR CRASH RELATED

Driver Charged as Result of Accident on Gorge Road

How the family of James Parfitt, 2446 Glendon Avenue, narrowly escaped death or serious injury in an accident on the Gorge road on April 30 was related in the City Police Court this morning when Allan Tucker of Work Point Barracks appeared on a charge of driving to the common danger. Mr. Parfitt, whose daughter was driving, told the court the left side of his car had been practically "sliced off" by the car driven by Mr. Tucker which collided with it near Garbally Road. As a result of the crash members of his family were now nervous about riding in autos, he said. Evidence was given to the effect that Mr. Tucker, traveling west, swung out to avoid a bus which had stopped at the roadside and as he did so collided with the car driven east by Miss Hazel Parfitt. Mr. Parfitt said the other driver had shown presence of mind in swinging back toward the centre of the road, although too late to avoid the impending crash. He said an iron rod from the other car had struck along the side of his machine narrowly missing his grandchild in the back seat. Mr. Tucker was convicted after a lengthy hearing and fined $50 or ten days.

Premier Is Ousted In New South Wales

Sir Philip Game, Governor, Calls For Hon. J. T. Lang's Resignation; Invites B. S. Stevens to Form Government

Canadian Press
Sydney, N.S.W., May 13.—Sir Philip Game, Governor of New South Wales, to-day used his executive authority to dismiss from office Premier J. T. Lang and to invite B. S. Stevens, head of the United Australia Party in the state, to form a government. Mr. Stevens consented.

The action of the governor, coming only a short time before a state general election, grew out of refusal by the Premier to obey an executive order demanding recall of circular letters which urged heads of government departments in the state to withhold from federal officials funds due the Commonwealth under terms of the Financial Agreement Enforcement Act. REFUSED TO COMPLY. The governor's demand for Mr. Lang's resignation followed an exchange of correspondence yesterday in which he ordered the Premier to call in the offensive letters which Sir (Turn to Page 5, Col. 6)

JOHN AIRD JR. TAKES STAND

Royal Commission Hears Leading Figure in Hydro Inquiry

Canadian Press
Toronto, May 13.—The tangled skein of evidence regarding the payment of $50,000 to John Aird Jr., of Toronto, by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario for his part in the negotiation for the purchase of Madawaska Power, was slowly unwinding to-day as Mr. Aird himself was called to the stand. He had barely started his story when the Royal Commission inquiry was adjourned for lunch, to carry on this afternoon. Efforts of Paul Reize of Chicago, representing "certain interests" to obtain the power site were outlined by Fred Roberts, Toronto lawyer, who represented Reize in some negotiations, but whose efforts failed after the Ontario Government had definitely outlined its policy of developing its own natural resources. SUNDAY GAMES ARE APPROVED

Canadian Press
Vancouver, May 13.—Use of Parks board tennis courts, golf links and bowling greens on Sundays has been approved by the board. The principle embodied in Commissioner R. Rowe Holland's policy of motion to that effect was formally approved and the sports committee was instructed to draw up a report for the next meeting recommending the procedure for giving effect to the new policy.

SPANISH EX-KING BEATEN BY MAN

Associated Press
Marseilles, France, May 13.—Former King Alfonso of Spain stepped off a steamer from Malta to-day into a rain of blows from a roughly dressed man on the pier. The incident was so unexpected the man punched the former monarch several times about the head and body before anybody could stop him. He was arrested immediately and identified as a Spaniard.

POST ABOLISHED

Vancouver, May 13.—Services of Mrs. Ada Tonkin, head of the Vancouver policemen's bureau since the beginning of 1929, will be dispensed with, it has been decided by the police commission. She will be given one month's notice of the board's decision.

DO-X, Great Liner Of The Skies, Makes Ready For 1932 Season

The world's largest heavier-than-air flying machine, the DO-X, which has one of the most remarkable ocean flying records, is prepared for its 1932 transatlantic flying season. The story of this ship and what a flight on it is like will be told in a feature story to-morrow in the Saturday Magazine Section of The Victoria Daily Times. Other features of the Saturday Magazine Section will include: Scientists' claim on long-range weather forecasting. Radio "fever machine" and electro-cardiophone latest medical discoveries. Broom and buttercup's glorify Florence Lake—Connell writes of swallows and damselflies, sponges, violets and stony hillside flora. Navajo ancient structures fascinate in the Chaco Canyon ruin area. A page of new women's fashions. Regular weekly illustrated page for the children. Books of the day and comment. And the four-page colored comic section.

Wooded Country Where Body Of Lindbergh Baby Was Found

Hopewell, N.J., May 13.—State troopers to-day guarded the spot where the body of the Lindbergh baby was found yesterday and permitted no one to approach it. The picture above gives an impression of the spot, five miles from the Lindbergh home, where the body was found. When the picture was taken, since that time the trees have come out in leaf and grass has grown. Hence, when William Allen yesterday stepped off the road he entered a woods in which he could not see so far as could the police pictured above.

M.P.'s Are Told About Rent Bennett Pays

Suite in Chateau Laurier, Ottawa, Discussed By Commons Committee; Rate For Fifteen Rooms Works Out at $13 a Day

Canadian Press
Ottawa, May 13.—The expenditures incurred in the alterations to the fifteen-room suite now occupied by the Prime Minister in the Chateau Laurier were announced to $10,749.26, and the rental paid by Mr. Bennett is $400 a month. These facts emerged at to-day's sitting of the Commons railway and shipping committee, at which the Premier was present. Mr. Bennett's payments to the hotel in 1930 were $11,943.07. He was absent from that hotel for five months that year, although he still paid the rental of his suite. In 1931 he paid $19,338.38, and thus far this year $8,236.06. The committee was told that when he had learned the alterations would cost more than $50,000—a figure which he had been advised, would take care of all expenditures—the Prime Minister had cabled from London, where he was attending the Imperial Conference, in October, 1930, requesting the work be not proceeded with. On his return, however, he had found the work in progress and subsequently moved into the remodelled suite on arrangements made by the hotel management. He had paid the rental the management had asked.

STATEMENT BY THORNTON
Sir Henry Thornton, president of the C.N.R., told the committee he accepted full responsibility for the alterations. The hotel viewed the matter purely as a business proposition, taking the stand that a guest who spent $20,000 a year in the establishment was a valued patron. He also suggested the alterations had resulted in providing the hotel with what might be known as a "vice-regal" suite, suitable for the accommodation of distinguished personages who might visit Canada.

REWARD MAY BE BETTER JOB

W. Allen, Colored, Who Found Body of Lindbergh Baby, Makes No Great Demand

Says He Would Appreciate Change From Being Helper on Truck

Associated Press
Hopewell, N.J., May 13.—William Allen, quiet-spoken negro who yesterday found the body of the Lindbergh baby, does not care so much about a cash reward, but he would like a better job than helper on a truck. "I feel I am entitled to some money," he said, "but if Col. Lindbergh has none but can find me a job, I'll be satisfied. I just hope the police catch the man who killed the baby. He must be a devil."

Hopewell, N.J., May 13.—William Allen, forty-three-year-old negro, gave the following account of how he discovered the body of the Lindbergh child yesterday afternoon: "After I got into the woods, I went under a branch and looked down. I saw a skull sticking out of the dirt, which seemed to have been kicked up around it. I thought I saw a baby, with its foot sticking out of the ground. 'I called Williams (Orville Williams, his companion) and he came into the woods. I said, 'I think it's a baby.' He said, 'Well, what are you going to do about it?' 'I said, 'I guess I'll report it to the Williams' (one of the two members of Hopewell's police force). 'We stopped at Hopewell and after looking around for Charlie found him in the barber shop. 'I said, 'Could you talk to me for a couple of minutes? He said, 'I would talk to me for five if I wanted to. 'Williams went and got the state police. He took me back to the truck, and after I had delivered the body of the blocks I had on the truck, I took him to the road where we found the baby. 'The baby was about forty-five feet from the road. After I showed it to Charlie he went and got some state policeman and I drove my truck back home and went to dinner. 'After I got home, Williams and some plain clothes men came and got me and took me to the Lindbergh's house. When I got there they asked me a lot of questions, like what time I seen the baby and where I seen it and all about it. 'Then they brought me back home and I ain't had no dinner yet. 'I just hope they get the man that did it. Nothing would be too bad to do to him.' Allen, who lives in a plain little house with his wife and five children, jogged the two youngest Allen babies slowly on his knee as he related his story to the reporter.

RELIEF ACT IS SIGNED

Ottawa, May 13.—The senate passed the government's Unemployment Relief Bill this afternoon. It was to be signed later to-day by Chief Justice Anglin of Canada, Deputy Governor-General.

Keating Secures Tie In Largest Family Search

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. S. Polson's Family of Fifteen Equals Largest in Victoria, Saanich and Esquimalt; De Macedo Family Totaled Sixteen But Only Eleven Are Living; Montreal Street Family Said To Be Largest on Vancouver Island.

Fifteen appears to be the unbeatable mark as the search for the largest family on Vancouver Island proceeded to-day. Keating came back into the picture this afternoon with a family equalling that of any yet discovered, placing Victoria, Esquimalt, Parkdale and Keating on the same footing. The record of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Buxton of Esquimalt, which stood for a week, has now been tied three days in succession, and subscribers have telephoned they still believe a thorough search will prove there is a family on the island that will beat any of the "fifteen" groups.

The Keating family of fifteen is that of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. S. Polson, Martindale Road. The eldest child is twenty-seven years of age and the baby is two. They came to Victoria from Manitoba. All live here but one, who is in Vancouver. Mr. Polson runs a successful farm in Keating and has a butcher's stall in the public market. A picture of the Polson family appears on Page 9. Reports from other outside points to which the search has been carried were received this afternoon. A fine family of seven boys and three girls of Mr. and Mrs. D. McKenzie, Sooke Road, was reported. A family of nine boys and one girl of Mr. and Mrs. E. Clark was announced from Shirley. Mr. and Mrs. Clark are well known residents of the district who have lived here forty years. COURT HOUSE CLAIM The claim advanced from the Court house was on behalf of Mrs. Carolina de Macedo, 831 Fort Street, but only ten of the fourteen children she presented to Joachim Antonio de Macedo are now living. Hale and hearty at eighty years of age, this lady of Spanish birth is residing with her daughter, Mrs. G. W. Chapman. Of the fourteen sons and daughters, three sons and two daughters are now in Victoria, three sons and a daughter in Vancouver, and a daughter in Scotland. Mr. de Macedo was Portuguese consul in Leeds, England, for many years. He came to Victoria about twenty years ago with ten children following the Portuguese revolution which abolished the monarchy. He died here eight years ago. Those now living in Victoria include Charles, of the sheriff's office; Frank and Lewis, Mrs. Chapman, and Mrs. J. P. Lee. In Vancouver reside Joseph, a school teacher; William, of the Dominion Government horticultural inspection staff, and Miss Lydia. One of the surviving daughters is in a convent in Glasgow, Scotland, under the name of Sister Antonia. (Turn to Page 5, Col. 4)

President Directs All Law Enforcement Agencies Of U.S. To Hunt Abductors

GRANDI WIRES LINDBERGH'S

Hopewell, N.J., May 13.—Foreign Minister Dino Grandi of Italy, who knows Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh personally, voiced his own and Italy's sorrow and horror at the slaying of the Lindbergh baby, in a telegram to the colonel to-day. Francois Latour, president of the Pas de Calais Council, sent the following cable to Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh: "The officials and people of Paris feel to the bottom of their hearts your terrible sorrow."

SURPRISED BY TALKIE MEN

Two Men Who Found Body of Lindbergh Baby Photographed at Hopewell

Talk Into Microphones; Story Will Be Heard By Audiences

Associated Press
Hopewell, N.J., May 13.—The two men whose discovery gave to the world the fate of the abducted Lindbergh baby reported for work as usual at 7 a.m. to-day at the home of W. A. Briggs, a local farmer. They were visibly embarrassed when they entered the Titus yard at Marshall Corner, three miles from Hopewell, to find the back yard a setting for news cameras and sound reproducing apparatus. William Allen of Trenton, a slight negro of forty-three years who was the first to see the body of the baby at the edge of a woods yesterday afternoon, posed in his work clothes for pictures and the "talkies." He repeated his version of the finding of the body three or four times and as he finished, with the machines still grinding, he said: "I don't know any more to say than that." DID NOT TARRY Then his companion, Orville Wilson, forty-nine-year-old man with grey hair, took his turn. "Of course, I didn't tarry there very long," he said, "and you know you wouldn't be sure afterward." He said that when Allen made the discovery he called simply, "Come on over here." When they were sure they had found the body of a baby they drove to Hopewell to inform police.

Hopewell, N.J., May 13.—The Lindbergh baby is dead, they cautioned. The body was found—it was hardly more than a skeleton—last yesterday afternoon. A negro truckman, pushing his way through thick brush of the Sourlands—about five miles from the Charles A. Lindbergh estate—made the discovery. Police were called. Identification was confirmed. A baby hunt cauterized and painstaking was ended: a man hunt, wide-flung and intense, swept forward in its place. INTERMEDIARIES QUESTIONED Two "intermediaries" of the baby search, men who for weeks had been moving in and out of the background, their movements carefully guarded for fear of endangering the child's life, were called to give an accounting of their hidden activities. One of these men was Dr. John P. Condon, the seventy-two-year-old oculist of New York City, who, negotiating through the newspapers as "Jafsie," established contact with a man to whom, later, $50,000 of Col. Lindbergh's money was paid on a promise—never fulfilled—that the child would be returned "alive and well." The other was John Curtis, "intermediary," whose recent information has sent him into the coastal waters near Long Island where, it was hinted, contact was to be made with the abductors. "These men are being questioned by the prosecutor," said Col. Norman Schwarzkopf, head of the New Jersey state police. "They are not, however, under arrest." Discovery of the skeleton of the child was made by William Allen, negro truckman. (Turn to Page 5, Col. 3)

PUBLIC INVITED TO CHAMBER MEETING

The annual luncheon meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce will be held to-morrow at 12:15 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, Arcade Building. The public is invited to be present. The speakers will be Col. W. L. McGregor, of Windsor, Ont., president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, and W. M. Birks, past-president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce and vice-president of the Federation of Chambers of Commerce of the British Empire. French joint subject will be "The Imperial Conference."

Federal Secret Service Joins in Search for Persons Who Murdered Lindbergh Baby; New Jersey District Attorney Says There May Be Arrests Within Few Days; "Jafsie" Clears Himself in Lengthy Interview With Police

Associated Press
Washington, May 13.—President Hoover to-day directed the law enforcement agencies and secret service of the federal government to set out on a hunt for the murderers of the Lindbergh baby "never to be relaxed until those criminals are implacably brought to justice."

Trenton, N.J., May 13.—District Attorney Erwin Marshall this afternoon announced nothing had been found to implicate Dr. John F. Condon; the "Jafsie" of the search for the Lindbergh baby. "He has been released and has gone back to New York," Marshall said. Dr. Condon, seventy-two, is a retired educationist of New York.

Trenton, N.J., May 13.—District Attorney Erwin Marshall said after a conference at the State House to-day that no one was under suspicion for the slaying of the Lindbergh baby "at this time," but there might be an arrest "any time."

But there may not be any arrests for a few days," he added. "We are not going off half-cocked on this thing. We are going to study this case and know where we are going."

RANSOM NOTE IS EVIDENCE

New York American Publishes What It Says Was Letter in Lindbergh Case

Associated Press
New York, May 13.—The New York American to-day published what it said it had learned from reliable sources was the text of the ransom note left by the persons who abducted the Lindbergh baby. It read as follows: "Dear sir—Have $50,000 ready. $25,000 in $20 bills, $15,000 in $10 bills and $10,000 in $5 bills. Have them in two packages. Four days we will inform you to redeem the money. "We warn you for making anything public or for notifying the police. The child is in great danger. "Identification for letters are signatures. Answer three-fold. T-3-2-4-1. Two rings in blue ink, with centre ring of red. A blue ink line of the blue circles in the outer edge of the red. A hole in the outer edge of each dark circle and one in the centre of the red. "Don't publish this letter."

In a statement to newspaper reporters at Hopewell, N.J., yesterday evening, Col. H. N. Schwarzkopf, head of the New Jersey State police, said: "The ransom note is not available and the prosecuting authorities have ordered it should not be made available to the press."

Sixty-piece Symphony Orchestra to Play at Park on May 23

Male Choir to Take Part; Empire Day Address By Albert Sullivan

Music will be made a big feature of the May 24 celebration in Victoria, it was learned this morning when further details of the carnival plans were revealed by the committee in charge.

On the night of Monday, May 23, one of the most ambitious outdoor musical entertainments ever attempted in the city is scheduled at the Royal Athletic Park. The programme for this event was released to-day by Alderman H. O. Litchfield, who is in charge of arrangements. Under the baton of C. A. Prescott, a combined symphony orchestra of sixty pieces will furnish the instrumental numbers and the Victoria Male Choir of over fifty voices, led by Frank L. Tupman, will supply the vocal music. Seating accommodation at the park has been improved through moving of the new grandstand to a central location, and it is anticipated this outdoor musical event will prove one of the major attractions of the festival. COMMUNITY SINGING In addition to the regular programme community singing will be made a special feature. Patriotic songs and popular airs will be chosen and capable song leaders have promised to be on hand to lead the tunes. (Turn to Page 5, Col. 6)

Friday, Thirteenth, Safest in Bed

But Even Then the House May Burn Down; Many Pitfalls But an Inside Out Garment and Four Leaf Clover Bring Assurance to Superstitious.

Superstitious people looked at the calendar and prepared to take every necessary precaution to-day. This is Friday the thirteenth and in order to counteract the ominous effect of the day and to avoid all the pitfalls that beset their paths those who are superstitious will: Palm every white horse; Wish on every load of hay; Wear a garment wrong side out. Find a four-leaf clover; Look for the first evening star. These signs and many others are declared to be certain ways of offsetting the possibility of any misfortune or evil consequences that may result from. Walking under an umbrella; Dropping salt on the tablecloth; Opening an umbrella in the house; A bird flying in the open window. The surest and most certain way of preserving one's safety, some persons claim, would be to remain in bed for the day, eat no food and see no one—but even at that there is the possibility of the house burning down.

A special ten-bid prize was won by Mr. Hoole.

Hostesses for the evening were: Mrs. H. H. Reed; Mrs. Victor Robinson; Mrs. Pettit and Mrs. Pinhorn.

Owing to the popular demand for another old-time dance, the institute will hold one on May 18 in the hall.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Foster have returned to their home at Royal Oak.

GOVERNMENT'S WOE TRACED TO WILD EXTRAVAGANCES

T. D. Pattullo Reviews Provincial Affairs Before Large Oak Bay Audience

Liberals' Return Will Restore Good Government, Opposition Leader Promises

A large and enthusiastic audience of Oak Bay residents yesterday evening, at the United Church Hall, Hampshire Road, heard T. D. Pattullo give his first address in Oak Bay since he entered parliamentary life. More than 100 men and women attended the meeting, which was sponsored by the Oak Bay Liberal Association. Carl Stocker, president, occupied the chair, and H. M. McGilverin moved the vote of thanks at the conclusion of the address.

Mr. Pattullo regretted the drift of all nations towards ever higher tariffs, remarking that decreasing international business had naturally followed. He said that the country's federal administration had claimed credit for reducing the country's adverse balance of trade, and Mr. Pattullo said that to its logical conclusion, by abolishing all international trade, Canada could attain a position where she will have no adverse trade balance at all.

Mr. Pattullo believed Britain was basically still opposed to tariffs, but had adopted the system to terminate a condition where the country was becoming a dumping ground for the surplus goods of all nations. He believed that a British Empire tariff wall against other nations was utterly impossible, but had hopes that much good could eventuate from the forthcoming Imperial Trade Conference at Ottawa.

While many people saw the world "going to the bow-wow," Mr. Pattullo believed the present situation of the people of Canada as a whole was vastly better than had been the experience of earlier generations.

BRITISH COLUMBIA AROUSED In British Columbia serious problems had to be met, and more people to-day were talking politics than ever before. "What part is the government of British Columbia playing in meeting the situation? I think the present administration has succeeded most admirably in making the worst of an adverse situation," Mr. Pattullo asserted.

He denounced the policy of secrecy as to governmental expenditures, which had included refusal to give information to businessmen. "They are now submitting their records to reputable businessmen. What situation have they put themselves in? They are giving a self-constituted body of businessmen access to public records which they have refused to give to elected representatives of the people."

Mr. Pattullo said that when the government of British Columbia had been in power, it had refused to give the Minister of Education, Mr. McEwen, the right of access to documents. Why the House could reverse that at any moment, Mr. Pattullo said, was a perspective is one of the ailments of this government," he charged.

The government's policy on unemployment was severely criticized, especially in regard to the committee which held an inquiry into the operations. First the government had insisted upon having eight members, while the opposition were allowed four; the government then appointed "an estimable party man" as counsel to the committee. When the opposition members called for production of all documents the chairman had offered to produce any specifically desired documents, but no others. "How ridiculous! How could we specify documents we had not been allowed to see?" he commented.

The Dominion unemployment relief officer had been pilloried and refused opportunity to reply to vituperations uttered behind his back, and an eminent Vancouver businessman had been similarly vilified for daring to utter criticisms of the government's unemployed policy.

GRAND JURIES

Recalling that the grand jury system in British Columbia was recently abolished by Ottawa, Mr. Pattullo asserted that the Attorney-General of British Columbia had made recommendations to Ottawa supporting abolition of the system. "Why not bring a resolution into the House regarding this matter? Had he had background and perspective he would have done so. The grand jury system has been in effect for 800 years. It is for the protection of the humble citizen. But you know how it is with our Attorney-General. Something happens, there is a splutter, then there is a vacuum for a while," Mr. Pattullo asserted.

"This government does not understand what constitutional rights and privileges are. They do not appear to be the protectors of the humble citizen. They are of Magna Carta. They lack the background of which I speak," he said.

Mr. Pattullo said the Liberal administration had been voted out of office because of a demand for a change. "Government's make promises from the day they take office," he commented, recalling the Conservative promises of unprecedented prosperity and reduced taxation.

JOBS CAME FIRST

"Why did not the Tolmie government proceed to make good those promises of lower taxation? They had been out of office for a long time; they had to find lots of jobs. That meant spend money lavishly. To-day you find the newshoys paying taxes, and that girls under twenty-one must pay taxes to make good a few extravagances. Labor pays all forms of taxation in the long run, and I favor exemption of low paid person," Mr. Pattullo announced.

"The Minister of Finance last year introduced a deliberately fraudulent budget. That declaration is plain enough. I showed him in the House that his budget was padded. In one department I found a shortage of at least $225,000. How much was that department short? Over $1,500,000. Now they talk economy, but this government only embraced economy when they ran out of both cash and credit. Yet they stepped into office with a provincial credit unimpaired by that which any province in Canada."

PAYROLLS INCREASED "After all their recent economies we find the government payroll to-day is $600,000 higher than when they took office," Mr. Pattullo said. He opposed reduction of the House membership to any large extent, but considered the reductions made had been to attain a party gerrymander. The island reduction of members to abolish a seat held by a member who had criticized the Minister of Education, Mr. Pattullo had been amalgamated with Revelstoke to repay the former for having voted against the Tolmie administration.

Mr. Pattullo saw no merit in coalition government in British Columbia; the situation had been identical in Great Britain, where a stalemate between the Labor and Conservative parties had existed last year. The Tolmie government had a thin majority and a coalition was unnecessary.

REVIEWS RECORD "It is my intention, if it is the will of the people of this province, to give the best government this province has ever had," Mr. Pattullo declared. "The Liberal party is not depending upon the Conservative government's deficiencies in its appeal to the people for office. When we took office in 1918 the first thing we did was to balance our budget. We placed this province in a position second to none in Canada, not even second to the Dominion itself. To-day it is at the tail-end!"

"There must be something wrong. Has this government had anything to do with it? The notoriety of this government has gone from one end of Canada to the other. The extravagances of the Public Works Department for one month would have taken care of the University of British Columbia for a year."

"But back to our Liberal government's record. We had on our hands a returned soldier policy, with 50,000 men demanding action. We devised a land settlement policy which met the needs of men willing to go on the land. Dr. Tolmie last year rejected anything of the sort when I urged the matter. Now we find Nels Lougheed in Vancouver arranging to buy land policy. Men on the land can at least be sure of food and shelter."

"Then we had an industries policy which caused many successful concerns to be started. We aided soldiers over hundreds of homes. What has this government done? They have set up work camps, hundreds of them," said Mr. Pattullo.

SOCIAL LEGISLATION "The Liberal government set up a Department of Labor which has been so successful the Tolmie government dares not do away with it."

Mr. Pattullo reviewed social and development legislation introduced by the Liberal government, pointing out that such measures had not been for party betterment. Had similar Liberal policies been general throughout Canada, present conditions would not be as serious as they were, he considered.

Since going into opposition the Liberal party had fought for public utilities commission empowered to limit earnings to returns on a prudent investment. Such limitations had been voted down.

The Canadian Pacific Railway had been given an exclusive franchise to carry passengers over the highways of Vancouver Island, a favor he considered a direct hit at Canada's own railway. This had been fought by the Liberals.

The three-man liquor board had been opposed, and Mr. Pattullo told of pensions paid to secure retirement of government officials, many had been denounced by Liberal members of the House.

Men had been dismissed from the civil service and the government had been compelled to reinstate them. Under the Liberal administration men discharged had stayed discharged. Today the civil service was uneasy and lacked esprit-de-corps, entirely because of the government's actions.

Touthing upon the present government's policy of shouldering heavy burdens on to the municipalities, Mr. Pattullo said "the government has promised to consult with the municipalities this summer. Surely it would have been better to have consulted them before throwing such burdens upon them."

POLICIES FORECASTED

When the Liberal party was restored to office it would promptly meet the municipalities, would reorganize the civil service, institute health insurance, undertake promotion of trade and tourism, and resume maintenance of highways, now being allowed to deteriorate.

Forecasting an early election, probably this summer, Mr. Pattullo urged nomination of men of liberal thought as standard-bearers for the Liberal party in each constituency. Recalling that he had warned the people at the last election that an inexperienced government would cost the province $200,000, he said that another such experiment would cost another $200,000. "It would therefore be wise to return the Liberal party with its experienced leaders to office, instead of a new group. If the Liberals are returned I am confident we will give you the best government this province has ever had," Mr. Pattullo concluded.

FOOD MATERIAL NEEDED BY INN

Sunshine Inn Has Served 26,000 Meals; Asks For Renewed Giving

Sunshine Inn had served nearly 26,000 meals up to this afternoon, and for some days the officials have been drawing upon the accumulated cash donations to replace dwindling donations of foodstuffs.

The monthly report shows that at May 3, when the fourth month operation terminated, the institution had served 23,958 meals. Officers find that the demand for meals is continuing, and have issued an appeal for donations towards the work. The principal needs are potatoes, carrots, turnips, onions, bread, meat, jam, beans, peas and sugar.

VALERA SAYS COURSE CLEAR

States No Threat Will Deflect Irish From Abolishing Oath of Allegiance

Dublin, Irish Free State, May 13.—President Eamon de Valera yesterday evening told interviewers the assertion by St. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Dominion Secretary in the British Cabinet, that abolition of the oath of allegiance in the Free State would violate provisions of the Anglo-Irish Treaty, did not alter the facts of the situation. It had been admitted, he said, the Free State possessed the same constitutional rights as Canada and the other Dominions and its constitutional position was one of complete equality with Great Britain.

When it had been proved to him the British and Canadian parliaments, for example, could not abolish their parliamentary oath if they chose, he would begin to think there might be some basis for the opinion of Mr. Thomas, the Irish President said. Such an opinion had not, however, been proved correct and no responsible person had even ventured to suggest it.

His mandate for abolition of the oath had come from the Irish people, the only persons whom the question really concerned, Mr. Valera added, and no threat from outside or misrepresentation of facts would deflect his government from its course.

PERLEY RETURNS FROM GENEVA

Senator Robertson Also to Journey Home From Geneva

Canadian Press.
Geneva, May 13.—Senator Gideon D. Robertson, former Canadian Minister of Labor, will sail for Canada May 21 if the improvement in his condition continues, Mr. Robertson, who came to Geneva as head of the Canadian delegation to the World Labor Conference, collapsed last week following a dinner. The senator and Mrs. Robertson plan to embark at Cherbourg.

It is felt in Canadian circles here that important private conversations between representatives of the great powers, suspended because of the illness of Premier MacDonald, and unsettled conditions consequent on the French general election, will not be resumed before the Lausanne Economic Conference. As a result many chief delegates to the World Disarmament Conference are temporarily leaving Geneva.

Sir George Perley, head of the Canadian delegation to the Disarmament Conference, will leave for home on the same date as Senator Robertson.

HOW LINDBERGH STORY WAS TOLD

Police Head Told Assembled Reporters How Body of Baby Found

Hopewell, N.J., May 13.—The story of how the remains of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr., infant son of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, were found was given to the world at a gathering of newspaper reporters late yesterday afternoon by Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, head of the New Jersey state police.

The reporters had hurried to the garage on the Lindbergh estate in answer to a call sent out by Col. Schwarzkopf, the garage having been police headquarters since shortly after the abduction on the evening of March 1.

Col. Schwarzkopf, a grave look on his face, told the newspapermen to be seated around the long table in the garage and then discussed in detail how the statement was to be made public.

He directed that no one should leave before he had concluded. And when he had finished he waved aside all questions.

He read the formal police statement as follows:

"We have to announce apparently the body of the Lindbergh baby was found at 3:15 p.m. May 13. A black negro, was riding on Mount Rose, N.J., to Hopewell, with Orville Wilson, on a truckload of timber. They stopped the truck near a wood. He (Allen) went into the woods on the Mount Rose Hill in Mount Rose, N.J. Going under the brush, he lowered his head, and as he raised a branch he saw a skeleton on the ground and a person's foot."

"He called back Mr. Wilson. Wilson ran into the woods, saw what it was, an accident to go to Hopewell to get police. They notified Chief Wolf of the Hopewell police, who notified these headquarters. Inspector Walsh of Jersey City, Sgt. Moffett of the Newark police, Lieut. Keaton of the New Jersey state police and a number of other detectives immediately went to the scene."

CLOTHING IDENTIFIED

"They reported finding the body of a child, estimated to be between one and one-half and two years' old, in a bad state of decomposition, having blond hair and wearing what appeared to be an undershirt and a flannel band around the body."

"Not satisfied with this as identification, the men sent back to Hopewell, to the Lindbergh estate, to get samples of the undershirt the baby wore and of the flannel shirt the baby had on the night of the kidnapping."

March 1. The flannel shirt had an embroidered collar on it. These articles were taken back to the scene and were compared with the clothing found on the body. They were matched closely enough to afford an identification of the body as that of the Lindbergh baby.

"The statement of William Allen and Orville Wilson says the body was pretty well concealed by leaves, dirt and brush."

"The skull had a hole in it about the size of a twenty-five-cent piece above the forehead."

"There apparently had been an attempt to bury the body face downward. It was in a bad state of decomposition."

"The Mercer County coroner and the county physician were immediately called. The physician is Dr. Charles H. Mitchell. The coroner is Walter Swayze, both of Trenton."

"The body was found about seventy-five yards off the road in the woods."

"To this dramatic denouement the reaction of Governor Moore of New Jersey was expressed at Trenton in these words:

"Every attempt should be made to find the murderers of the Lindbergh baby."

ARRESTS EXPECTED

His sentiment was echoed in a second statement from Colonel Schwarzkopf, which was as follows:

"As long as there was a possibility of the baby being alive, the police acted with certain amount of suppressed activity in order not to interfere with any negotiations that might result in the safe return of the baby."

"Now that the body of the baby has been found every possible effort will be used and all men necessary will immediately exercise every possible effort to accomplish the arrest of the kidnapers and murderers. We have had under suspicion a group of persons suspected of being the kidnapers and immediate steps will be taken and are being taken to accomplish their arrest."

"Emergency telephone lines for the case are lying on the ground, where they were placed by telephone men, within seventy-four feet of where the body was found."

Mount Rose is a hamlet of five houses and a general store.

The spot where the body was found is approximately five miles southeast by road from the Lindbergh estate and four miles directly across the Sourland Mountains. The Mount Rose Road is a little-travelled road between Princeton and Hopewell. There are five houses and a general store in the Mount Rose community.

JAIL SINGING RUMOR DENIED

Canadian Press.
Prince Albert, May 13.—Another rumor was denied here yesterday evening when J. P. Shukin, brilliant, B.C. vice-president of the Doukhobor organization, emphatically declared the Doukhobors were not planning a march on the Prince Albert jail, which holds their leader, Peter Verigin. A report from Blaine Lake said Doukhobors were coming several thousand strong, intent on singing after they had got here until Verigin was released. After getting in touch with Blaine Lake, Mr. Shukin said all of his sect were peacefully at work on the land in that area.

CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

Winnipeg, May 13.—Hon. Frank Carroll of Quebec, publisher of The Chronicle-Telegraph, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his entry into newspaper work yesterday evening by addressing a dinner meeting of the Winnipeg Press Club. Mr. Carroll has just concluded a speaking tour through western Canada during which he addressed boards of trade and other associations on the coming Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa.

As Commons Gives Relief Bill Third Reading King Says It Is Plain Bennett Ministry Has No Policy That Will Create Employment

Canadian Press.
Ottawa, May 13.—Bill No. 72, "An Act Respecting Relief Measures," embodying the authority under which the Dominion Government will co-operate with the provinces in dealing with the unemployment problem, and in taking such measures as it considers necessary to protect the financial position of any of the provinces or of the Dominion, is now before the Senate, having been given third reading in the Commons yesterday evening.

OPPOSED BY LIBERALS

There was no general debate in the Commons yesterday evening, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King being the only speaker.

The opposition leader recalled the protracted debate that had centered about the Unemployment Relief Continuance Act, under which the government acted during April and May, and said the opposition to the present measure was just as strong.

The government would have to take the responsibility for any delay in the passing of this measure, he said, because it could have been brought down and dealt with much earlier in the session.

It was "perfectly plain," said Mr. King, that the government had no policy that would create work for the unemployed or end unemployment.

The only apparent plan reflected in the measure was to co-operate with provinces in the payment of a dole.

Cannot Cure Unemployment By Dismissing Men, Says Rev. H. Dobson

New Westminster, May 13.—"You cannot cure unemployment by dismissing men," said Rev. Hugh Dobson, D.D., at the public meeting yesterday evening of the church conference. Continuing, Dr. Dobson said the only cure for unemployment was sharing, and the Christian church must lead the way in this matter. The address was on the evangel of God, and Dr. Dobson declared that the world to-day had just as great need of the evangel as it did in the days when Christ first proclaimed his gospel—good news of the brotherhood of man.

Rev. G. O. Pallas, the newly-elected president, was in the chair, Rev. George D. Pallas, president of the committee in evangelism and social service, and Rev. G. H. Findlay, formerly of Dawson City, led in prayer.

Antenna were given by the choir of Collingwood United Church.

In characteristic address Rev. Andrew Rodden roused the enthusiasm of the large audience as he described the work of First United Church, Vancouver. He said that this down town work had been carried on by the churches which entered union, for forty years, and the work had changed with the years, to adapt itself to the problems. He paid a tribute to the pioneers who had established the work, and to the present staff which was undertaking the great task of ministering to the depressed and needy.

WETTEST SPOT IN CANADA

"We have the wettest spot in the Dominion of Canada, near First Church," he declared at one time, as he spoke of the numerous baptisms established around the locality where the church is situated.

He told of giving men "free transportation to other parts of Canada, by means of a letter given by the church, which they carried with them. Thousands of men had been helped in various ways. There was a 'clinic' every day from 9 to 12. Over 15,000 United Church radio appeals were made for such things as were needed, and the response was always generous.

An amusing incident was told by Mr. Rodden when he asked for a baby buggy for twins. He received so many that the next Sunday he asked for shoes who needed the buggies, and soon they were all given to really needy mothers.

DISCUSS OUTLOOK FOR MIGRATION

Canadian Press.
London, May 13.—While the severity of the present depression in the Dominion is clear, it is clear the Dominions will offer very little scope for immigrants. This is the conclusion of the Economic Advisory Council's committee on Empire migration, appointed in July, 1930, under the chairmanship of Viscount Astor.

The committee's report, made public yesterday evening, expresses the opinion that the staple forms of the Dominion's agriculture will not recover the expansiveness of the past decade.

When conditions have improved, the report suggests it would be worth while to explore the possibility of arranging an inclusive ocean and land passage rate to selected Canadian points. It recommends amendment of the Empire Settlement Act of 1922, abolishing the statutory proportion between the British and Dominion governments of the financial assistance to migrants. It is proposed to retain the present principle that not more than 50 per cent of the cost should be defrayed from the United Kingdom funds, subject to the British government being authorized to take into account the cost of any contributions other than in cash.

It is also proposed to provide a larger proportion than 50 per cent of the capital expenditure involved where the schemes provide for payment of 50 per cent of any loss ultimately incurred from other sources than United Kingdom funds.

LINDBERGH NEWS KEPT FROM JURY

St. Louis, Mo., May 13.—St. Louis authorities established censorship to prevent the news of the finding of the body of the Lindbergh baby in New Jersey from reaching a jury trying Paul A. Richards on an abduction charge. It was feared prejudice might result.

CIVIL SERVICE CHANGES VOTED

Commons Adopts Report of Committee Which Investigated

Canadian Press.
Ottawa, May 13.—With party lines lifted, the Commons yesterday evening rejected a motion to delete one clause of its committee's report which would remove from the jurisdiction of the Civil Service Commission appointments of lower grade postmasters. The division was 92 to 55, with two members of the government, Hon. Murray MacLaren and Hon. Hugh A. Stewart, and three other Conservatives voting with the bulk of the Liberals and the entire Progressive group, in favor of the deletion.

Seven Liberals joined the Conservatives in opposition. The report itself was adopted without division.

Premier Bennett and Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King gave free hands to their followers in the division, telling them to register their votes according to judgment, not party considerations.

E. J. Garland, United Farmer member for Bow River, Alberta, made the motion to delete the clause. About 3,500 post offices would be affected, mostly in rural parts and all with revenues below $3,000 a year. It was recommended appointments to them be transferred from the Civil Service Commission to the Postmaster-General.

That step, said Mr. Garland, would be a "retrograde step" and "the thin edge of the patronage wedge."

The main report of the special committee, of which J. E. Lawson, Conservative, West York, Ont., was chair-

A GHASTLY CRIME

FOR MORE THAN TEN WEEKS MILLIONS of people in every part of the civilized world have been anxiously waiting for news of the discovery of the baby boy of Colonel and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh. They had hoped all along that he would be restored to his parents little the worse for his experiences. It seemed to be generally believed that the perpetrator, or perpetrators, of the ghastly business, thoroughly alarmed by the widespread attention the abduction had caused, would wait for a time in the hope that police vigilance would be relaxed and furnish a safe opportunity for the return of the baby and the collection of a reward from the distraught father. All the theories which had been propounded collapsed yesterday when a negro truckman virtually stumbled upon the body, its badly decomposed state and marks on the skull suggesting that almost within the shadow of his home the little tot was foully murdered by some maniac, who perhaps had even no thought of monetary gain—despite the ransom note left on the window sill of the child's bedroom.

Any expression of regret in such melancholy circumstances can seem little better than a mere empty phrase; but Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh know how millions of mothers and fathers are feeling for them to-day. If it is possible to say something with any meaning at all, it is to hope that the sorrowing parents in that New Jersey home will be able to get some comfort of mind from the suspense which is now over. If no trace of the baby had been discovered; if months and even years had passed, there still would have remained the parents' belief that their offspring still lived. It is not difficult to imagine how through more days and more months—and perhaps even years—their minds might have been tortured by the thought that their boy was growing up in surroundings of squalor and crime, never to know to whom he belonged, never to know what his heritage was. There may be some consolation for the mother and father in such a contemplation. It is to be hoped so.

Even though the course of events may prove that this hideous and utterly wicked crime was committed by a maniac, that the world of gangdom was not implicated in the abduction, there still remains the ugly fact that the underworld—either in the guise of respectability or with a brazen front—has exploited the whole wretched business for gain. Fifty thousand dollars of Colonel Lindbergh's money was paid to an unidentified informer. This seems to have been the point at which the underworld entered the scene. It is this that emphasizes the problem facing the forces of law and order in the United States—a condition which must make all law-abiding citizens hang their heads in shame. President Hoover to-day has issued instructions that no effort be spared to find the perpetrator, or perpetrators, of the foul deed.

Will this case be the means of leading to a climax a new determination on the part of a proud and wealthy nation to create, by what force may be necessary, real respect for the institutions of law and order? Will there be a demand for an overhauling of the present system from the root up, a demand that the Capones and their tribe be treated according to their deserts, not as if they were the very lords of creation? There could be no finer monument to the memory of the Lindbergh baby, no more substantial recompense to the bereaved parents, than such an assurance.

TO-MORROW'S TAG DAY

TO-MORROW THE WOMEN'S AUXILIARY of St. Joseph's Hospital will make its annual appeal to the public through the medium of a tag day. It may be that this form of financing is not the most effective, but it enables the women who give their time and thought to the needy patient to get just that additional "something" which cheers. On the principle of an old Scottish proverb, the total of many small contributions makes a welcome addition to the funds of the organization—and all and sundry are reached. The hospitals are carrying on a fine humanitarian work, and The Times bespeaks for the Women's Auxiliary of St. Joseph's a ready and generous response to to-morrow's appeal.

MUST FACE FACTS

NEWSPAPERS WHICH FIND IT MUCH more advisable to face economic facts than to waste time and space on mere platitudes are being told by other newspapers—mainly those friendly to the present government at Ottawa—that they will be highly delighted if the forthcoming Imperial Economic Conference turns out to be a failure.

What the newspapers which belong to the group that is not expecting miracles to emerge from the gathering in question have been trying to point out is that it is utterly foolish to suppose any country of the empire will sacrifice its foreign trade on the altar of imperial sentiment.

There is unquestionably a fine opportunity for the various dominions and colonies to do more business with one another. But it ought to be understood that the extent of the expansion of the present trading must necessarily be limited. And it will be expanded but very little indeed unless the fullest measure of give and take enters into the deliberations of the gathering. If all the delegates go into the conference room as a body of sellers only, and regard it as a sort of grab-bag, the meeting is foredoomed to failure.

Many difficulties will have to be surmounted. Conflicting economic views will have to be reconciled. But, as we already have pointed out, much good can be accomplished if the business of the conference is approached in the light of realities.

VANISHING SAILS

EIGHTEEN BIG SAILING SHIPS ARE now driving up from Australia toward Britain, carrying wheat from the great Australian grain fields; but not one of the ships flies the British flag, and not one flies the American.

This incidental bit of news is hardly surprising, considering the decline that the square-rigger has undergone in the last decade and a half; yet it does seem to mark, pretty clearly, the end of an epoch. For the Australian grain trade is the last real cruising ground of the full-rigged ship, and if ships of British and American registry are not to be found there they are not—with a handful of unimportant exceptions—to be found anywhere.

And that fact sets one thinking on the vast store of specialized knowledge and specialized ability that has become obsolete in the last few years. The lore of the sailing ship, handed down from the days of the Phoenicians, has grown useless and out of date.

Yachtsmen still cherish some of it, and these Finnish and Scandinavian sailors who have stuck to the Australian grain trade have their share; but for the most part the old, painfully-acquired and once invaluable knowledge by which men were able to make the vagrant winds carry the commerce of the world has become of no account—and, in a very few years, will have vanished utterly.

It took many centuries to compile that knowledge, and it was done by the trial and error method, by men who paid with their lives if they failed to learn fast enough. If, at any time prior to a generation ago, it had suddenly been lost, the world's trade and communications would have been paralyzed. It was one of the race's most priceless possessions.

But now it is going fast, and the world will not miss it; for human progress does things in a strange way sometimes. It can spend long ages perfecting some tool and then, overnight, discard it entirely. Nothing endures except change.

A MODERN "SWIMMING HOLE"

IT IS ROOFED WITH GLASS, ITS SIDES are of glazed tile and its water is heated, filtered and disinfected, but it is just the modern city counterpart of the "ole swimmin' hole" of the countryside. In this crystal garden tank, during the weeks since Easter, 400 boys and girls have experienced fun such as some of their fathers had as barefoot boys in the days when the spring sun had warmed the water of the pool along the creek and the gang gathered after school for their early season plunge.

Four hundred boys and girls here have participated in The Victoria Daily Times swimming course this spring arranged by Mr. A. H. Clowishaw, manager of the Crystal Garden. The classes into which they were grouped have been receiving the last of their lessons this week. Under the capable direction of Instructors Fred Ellison and Mary Ellison, three hundred are being turned out as qualified swimmers. The other hundred have advanced to the stage where only a little practice remains between them and proficiency. All have learned the essentials of an art that will be a source of pleasure and physical benefit to them. For some, the time may come in emergencies when it will prove of vital service to those less capable, as well as to themselves. In mastering the technique of swimming they have also learned what may be accomplished by self-confidence and a little self-control. This will be of even greater value to them in their general activities of later life.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

"CRITICISM" OF PUBLIC MEN
 Sault Ste. Marie Star

It's a newspaper secret, but it's a fact that newspapers have not a very high opinion of men in public life who complain of the "criticism" they get while in office.

What do these gentlemen expect? Do they think the people whose money they handle should not have the right of saying what they think about the conduct of their own affairs?

Is it not unreasonable to expect that men who offer themselves as public servants to handle trust funds—and it is rare indeed that anybody urges them to do so—should be above fair criticism?

SPEED LIMITS
 The Border Cities Star

Nova Scotia has fallen in line with the trend to abolish motor speed limits and place the onus of responsibility on the driver. According to the new law, you can clip along at forty miles per hour and be protected by the act. If you have an accident when you are exceeding forty, then the burden of proof rests on you that you were driving carefully.

The legislation is interesting in view of the way they drive in Nova Scotia. There is hardly any paving down there, but gravel highways stretch for miles in all directions. These are well surfaced, but are narrow, twisting and hilly. The Maritime drivers whiz along at terrific speed. The visitor cannot help wondering how it is there are so few accidents.

PENALIZING BRITAIN
 The Winnipeg Free Press

It is not to be forgotten that Canada was the first country in the world to penalize British exports. Quite recently another nation did so—France. The French Government put a surtax of 15 per cent on British imports, to correct the depreciation of the pound. Mr. Runciman, President of the British Board of Trade, on behalf of the British Government, promptly protested. Mr. Rollin, French Minister of Customs, pointed out in reply:

"France is not the first to take this step, for one of the leading British Dominions, Canada, has taken similar action by fixing her import duties on the basis of gold prices, which amounts to a surtax to compensate for the fall in the currency."

This is the first time that a foreign country, in defending a policy which injures Great Britain, has been able to turn to Canada to find a precedent.

Loose Ends

Some thoughtless thoughts on the lack of them—some vile poetry about an unworthy subject—and a strange account of Angus's victory.

By H. B. W.

OUTSIDE MY window, in the rolling field yonder, a man is standing on the back of a wagon, pitching good barnyard stuff out of it to fertilize the "business" crop of corn. I've been pitching there for three days with never a pause, and when the west wind blows I catch the homely aroma of his work rather distinctly. Sometimes I have to close my window. I have been watching that fellow for three days wielding his pitchfork without a pause, and I have been wondering for three days what a man thinks about when he is fetching good barnyard stuff to fertilize a field for corn. You may answer that it is none of my business and unimportant. Perhaps it is none of my business, but it is a security of mine. For the man on the cart yonder, I should say, represents most of the toiling millions of the world. What do they think about as they toil?

WHAT DO the millions of laborers, carpenters, plumbers, machine tenders, fishermen, loggers, farmers think about during these working hours which make up the better part of their lives? I suppose no one will ever know. But imagine what would happen to the world if they began to think seriously at their work, about the problems of the day, about making a better world about the present evils of the time. Then surely we should see one of two results—either we should achieve a new and better world or the whole business of civilization would explode in indignation. Probably it is just as well that most of the toiling millions do not think about such things. They are too busy to think. That nature's greatest gift to man is not the power of thought, but his amazing ability to avoid thinking altogether, his magnificent power of shutting his mind and plodding along.

THAT IS the true happiness. That is the highest wisdom. It is only those who think who are dangerous to themselves and others. If you doubt it, sit down now and try to think on any subject without interruption for fifteen minutes. I will guarantee that you cannot keep your mind from wandering to at least fifteen in that time. The man who can concentrate on anything for ten minutes is an intellectual giant among his fellows and probably has a very dull time. True happiness rests in the farm wagon yonder, where nature has equipped that man and countless millions like him with the divine faculty of thoughtlessness. There is your true philosopher and wise traveler through this vale of tears, whose thoughts will be as useful as the most eminent pedagogues' fifty years hence, and who has no worries, no misgivings and no doubts meanwhile. Stay, the west wind blows again. I must close my window.

IT IS NOT OVERT that one lives long. I ought to see one's self celebrated in verse, and, frankly, I had not expected it. Perhaps I owe it to my own indiscretion. You see, I have a friend in a certain office, whose name I shall not reveal, and it is my custom to talk things over with her. For I trust her opinion about that of mine. She is a very good girl, one of those good sensible girls on whose discretion you can rely, or at least I always imagined so up to this point. Well, I happened to mention to her a few days ago the dismal facts about the robin's nest which I have been inflicting so frequently on the public of late. To my horror she related them to some unscrupulous friend of hers, and together they have composed a poem, a very bad poem, which, however, I feel bound to publish, for were I to suppress it they would never forgive me; they would always consider me a poor sport and they would certainly tell all their friends. And I, with my superior conscience, would never tell my friends about them; about the way they make beer in the basement and are always breaking bottles accidentally so that they may have an extra share; or about the bottle of cocktails they took to a recent party and selfishly consumed all themselves in the cloak room. So all I can do is defy them, and publish their vile poem in the smallest type available. Alas, here it is:

Rumor has it, is it true
 "H. B. W." has a hobby?
 Well, I'm blest,
 'Tis a robin on the nest!
 Not so many moons ago,
 When the weather was so snow,
 "H. B. W." full of interest,
 Gazed in scanty, scant attire,
 Further more, we can't inquire.
 But the story, so it goes,
 Calls for something more in clothes,
 For the doggie of this scribe
 Braved the cold in his jaws—
 Then made off with scarce a pause!
 Now, our hero, sore distressed,
 Told the tale of his woes:
 Grabbed his pants, and that was all,
 While he fled across the hall
 Ere this robin's breast be torn!
 Eager was this man to chase—
 Pants are pants in any case:
 He would yet all trace efface
 Of his doggie's own great;
 Though his doggie sat the pace,
 He would catch him in this case!
 Thus the story, so it goes,
 Brought a cold within the nose,
 For the doggie "lost his bet."
 The robin's nest is now great;
 But the scribe in scanty clothes
 Caught a cold and now he blows!

THE LITTLE GIRL from next door was over here just now, and she made two statements which you undoubtedly will consider a pure invention on my part. You will be wrong. For she said precisely these words: "Angus, you know Angus what has red hair and a green hat? Well, Angus, my friend did at the corner, he won a race at the school to-day. He beat all the boys in the race at the school to-day. Angus did. Um, um, he came in third. 'Cause he can run awful fast, that's why he came in third, Angus, and that was the race." I asked her how many boys had run in the race and she replied, "Just three and Angus won it. He came in third 'cause he can run so fast." After further cogitation she suddenly pointed out my window to our great fir tree and she said: "Ye see that tree, there, eh? Well, God lives in that tree." I expressed some doubt. "Yes, He does," said she, "but you can't see Him 'cause he's inside of it." "How," I said, "can you be sure of that?" Said she (and I have no hope that you will believe me, though it is quite true): "I can feel of God being inside that tree. And ye know when it was all blowy and windy to-day? Well, that was God blowing as hard as He could and He blew so hard with His mouth that the tree was all waving and roaring in the wind."

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

FROM THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES, MAY 13, 1907

From The Times Files.
 Weather forecast—Victoria and vicinity: Southerly and westerly winds, mostly cloudy and cool, with showers.

After making the run from Iquique to Esquimalt, a distance of 6,000 miles, in a little over three weeks, the steamer Georgia, Capt. Henderson, pulled into port yesterday afternoon. The Georgia is vessel which will make the initial trip between British Columbia and Mexico in connection with the Canadian-Mexican Pacific Steamship Line.

Victoria's bank clearing for the week ending April 11, shows the second greatest percentage of increase of any of the cities or towns of the Dominion of Canada over the showing for the same week last year.

The members of the Victoria Kennel Club held a meeting in the office of Dr. Garesche yesterday.

A meeting has been arranged to be held at the Driford Hotel this evening to consider the advisability of holding a trotting meet in the city on May 24. The meeting has been called by some of the prominent owners of harness horses in the city.

The steamer Mount Royal, Capt. Johnson, belonging to the Hudson's Bay Company, is now outfitting in the inner harbor and will sail for the Skeena River on Wednesday. She will be engaged in carrying freight there as soon as the river is open to navigation.

THE SAFETY OF CHILDREN

To the Editor:—In thousands of Victoria homes to-day the tragic fate of the Lindbergh baby will be discussed with horror, and parents will say to one another, "Thank God, our Jimmy is not in any such danger as that." Yet many of these parents allow their children to play on the street, with no supervision of any kind. They go further, they provide them with tricycles, bicycles, scooters, toy wagons, roller skates and balls, with the natural consequence that the youngsters use the roadway, in hourly risk of maiming or death from passing cars.

I know quite well that mother says to Jimmy or Doris, when she tells them to go and play, "Now promise mother you won't go on the road." Of course the youngsters duly promise, and mother goes on with her work, but the temptation to join the others is too great, and there they go, rushing out on to the road, and giving the motorist or truck driver near heart failure or nervous prostration with their narrow escapes.

Alas! too often, the headlines announce, "Little Boy Killed by Truck" or "Little Girl Crushed by Car" and yet parents never seem to think it necessary to watch their children to see that they do not run into danger.

DOUBTLESS many of our citizens will be glad to see that the City Council is looking into and will rectify as far as possible the unfairness of the present system. That the charges for water to adjoining municipalities are operated so drastically against Victoria are patent to any one inquiring into the matter.

It is hoped that a searching inquiry will result in saving the ratepayers of this city thousands of dollars.

ASK COST OF PREMIER'S CAR

Canadian Press
 Ottawa, May 13.—The cost to the country of the private car of Premier Bennett and former Premier King will be reviewed by the Commons committee on railways. Yesterday William Duff, Antigonish-Guyabourough, N.S., asked for a return showing the cost of the new car Mr. King had now using. He asked what had become of "car 100," used by Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.

Information long sought by members of the committee, dealing with expense accounts for a large number of Canadian National Railway officials, was tabled at yesterday's sitting of the committee by Sir Henry Thornton, president of the system. Whether the facts contained therein should be made public was not decided.

GORGE VALE GOLFERS MEET

An enthusiastic meeting of the members of the Gorge Vale Golf Club was held yesterday evening at the Elks' Hall for the purpose of making final arrangements for the completion and opening of the final nine holes which is scheduled to be ready for play this time this summer.

The Gorge Vale course has been under construction for some time and the work is now progressing favorably. Upon completion this course will undoubtedly be one of the finest on the Pacific Coast. The board of directors and members of the club are looking forward with optimism to the opening of the full eighteen-hole course.

While the membership drive has been fairly successful up to the present time, it was the opinion of the meeting that a large number of golf players were not members of any particular club and it was thought advisable to make a special canvass for members during the next few weeks. With this end in view a membership committee was appointed, consisting of the following members: C. F. Banfield, chairman; R. Love, F. Thomas, D. A. Matthews and R. W. Watson.

The final date for the opening has not yet been settled, but it is hoped that it will take place some time during the month of July.

Time Extension For Pacific Ho. Refused

Canadian Press
Seattle, May 13.—A request for a thirty-day extension of the period for the Seattle-Tokyo non-stop flight, set to expire June 1, was made of the committee here in a telegram from Mark K. Vance, president of the Vance Aircraft Corporation, who said he wanted a chance at the $25,000 prize offer.

Vance said his new "flying wing" monoplane of great speed and cruising radius was nearing completion at the Oakland, California, airport.

Valentine Gephart, prize fund trustee, who has seen Vance's new ship, replied an extension was impossible. "If Vance can get his flying wing ready in time, I believe it is the best yet to win this prize money," Gephart said.

"Vance has been an aerial postman for twelve years and has built many planes. I consider him one of the most reliable fliers in the country and his plane will have 1,500 gallons fuel capacity and be very fast." A dispatch from Tokyo indicated Harold Bromley, formerly of Victoria, B.C., who made two unsuccessful attempts to win the prize, planned to leave here next week from the day to day. Nothing has been heard from him. He was last reported in San Antonio, Texas.

M.P.'s Told About Rent Bennett Pays

Deaumont, Liberal, Providence, Man., yesterday complained at the delay in furnishing the replies.

This morning the Prime Minister, in a statement relative to the question, declared his attention had been directed to the fact that "a whispering campaign" with regard to his expenditures at the Chateau had been going on for some time.

He had received there since coming to Parliament, he said. After he had become Leader of the Opposition he had moved into "better" quarters in the establishment, and had expressed to Sir Henry Thornton his satisfaction with them.

$50,000 ESTIMATE

After the general election of 1930 the matter was again referred to, and in October it was indicated that the cost of making alterations would involve $50,000. The Prime Minister was then in London, and had called to Sir George Perley intimating that changes should not take place. He had a memorandum from Sir Henry Thornton which set forth the $50,000 as the maximum charge.

He had not been aware until this year the expenditures had reached the $110,000 figure, Mr. Bennett continued. He had not moved in immediately.

ENTERTAINMENT BASIS

Last September the manager of the hotel spoke to him and the Premier's aide, inquired what the rent of the suite was. Mr. Bennett's suggestion was that 6 per cent of $80,000 would be a reasonable sum. That was before the Prime Minister learned that the total cost had been, and when he was still under the impression the $50,000 had been adhered to.

Finally it was agreed that if the Prime Minister would spend "substantial sums in the hotel in the way of hospitality," the suggested arrangement would be desirable and satisfactory.

The Prime Minister assumed occupancy of the suite on September 17, 1931. He did not keep any accurate account of the money disbursed in the hotel, but yesterday he had secured from the ledger-keeper a statement of his expenditures. These amounts Mr. Bennett laid before the committee.

Part of this would be repayment of cash he had received in the way of small accommodations inasmuch as he did not carry much money around with him, said Mr. Bennett.

BELIEVES ERROR MADE

"I still think there must be some error as to the amount spent in the alterations," the Prime Minister said. "There are a number of small rooms in the suite, but I still think the figures are out of all proportion to the expenditure."

The Premier declared he had always paid what he was asked to pay in the Chateau and other hotels.

"I am only too anxious to make known to the committee that I have not availed myself of any officials in any department for gratuitous services to myself," the Prime Minister declared. "Neither the experimental farm nor the Department of Public Works, or any department, has contributed any services to me."

ANSWERS QUESTIONS

E. W. Gray, Liberal, Lambton West, Ont., took up the examination of the Prime Minister. "You have lived a great deal of your life in hotels," he asked.

Mr. Bennett: Yes.

Mr. Gray: And you are thoroughly conversant with hotel rates?

Mr. Bennett: Yes. I know they are computed on the percentage of occupancy.

To the question of the size and cost of his former quarters in the hotel, Mr. Bennett said he had four rooms, and he believed the cost was between $200 and $300 a month.

Mr. Gray: And now you are paying $400 a month for fifteen rooms?

Mr. Bennett: That is what I am asked to pay and I always pay what I am asked.

Mr. Gray: Will you now work that $300 rate out on a per diem rate and let us know what it is?

Mr. Bennett: No. I do not propose to make any such computation.

Mr. Gray: Then suppose I do it for you.

Mr. Bennett: You may do as you like. I assume you are as well able to work it out as I am.

Mr. Gray calculated it would amount to about $13 a day. "Do you think that a fair rate to pay for fifteen rooms that cost the Canadian people more than $100,000 in capital expenditure?" he asked.

Mr. Bennett: I am not going to answer that because I am not the manager of the hotel. But you must remember that is on a yearly basis.

Mr. Bennett said he thought there must be some error in the figures given because of the cost of the alterations and improvements. He had been familiar with the hotel for many years and he could not understand how the charges could cost so much.

While he had not learned the actual figures until a few days ago, he had been told just before he occupied the suite it had cost a great deal more

DOLLAR GAINS ON EXCHANGE

New York, May 13.—The Canadian dollar closed fractionally higher today on the local foreign exchange market. Opening unchanged at 83 1/2 cents in United States funds, it held at that figure until near the close, when it advanced 1/4 cent. Weak opening at $3.63 1/2, off 1 1/4 cents, it declined another fraction at noon and finished at $3.63 1/2.

C.N.R. REPORT IS ADOPTED

Commons Committee Ends Public Sittings; Camera Session Planned

Ottawa, May 13.—The annual report of the Canadian National Railway was adopted by the Commons committee on railways and shipping today. The committee concluded its public sittings, and will meet on Tuesday next in camera, when further reports and answers to questions submitted by the management will be considered.

Hon. W. D. Ruler, Liberal, North Waterloo, Ont., declared, just before adjournment, that he wished it made quite clear that reports of expense accounts of officials would be submitted to the committee and discussed in camera.

R. B. Hanson, committee chairman, replied they would be taken up in camera. Notice was given to the committee by Dr. Peter McDougall, Conservative, Muskoka, Ont., that he wished to consider these expense accounts confidential, and that he would use his own discretion in regard to them.

Mr. Gray—Did it not strike you the rate they were giving you was too low?

Mr. Bennett—No. The hotel gave me a price and I accepted it. If it had been higher I would have paid it or not taken the suite.

Mr. Gray referred to the mention of entertainment expenditures in the statement and said he understood the low rate was given in condition Mr. Bennett would make such expenditures. "Do you get the same concessions in other hotels?" he asked.

Chairman R. B. Hanson (Conservative, York-Sudbury, N.B.) ruled the question cut. "Let it stand—I don't mind answering," Mr. Bennett interjected, "if that is his idea of statecraft."

"I would like to know if it is the Prime Minister's idea of statecraft to occupy that suite, built at the cost of the people of Canada, at a rate of $13 per day," replied Mr. Gray.

Mr. Bennett repeated his assertion that if he had the hotel for a higher rate he would pay or vacate.

ADJUSTMENT STUBBORN

"Now that you have learned of the actual cost of the suite, and when you have proved the figures to be correct, will you be prepared to make some adjustment, in view of the financial state of the Canadian National?" Mr. Gray asked.

"Don't you think, Mr. Prime Minister, you should hesitate to take advantage of such an offer?" Mr. Bennett replied. It was a purely business transaction. He had not asked for any favors and paid what was required of him as he had done all throughout his life. He added that if Mr. Gray wished to seek out instances of such advantages being taken he could find them nearer home without investigating the leader of the government.

William Duff, Liberal, Antigonish, N.S., expressed the opinion $110,000 did not represent the real value of the suite as a basis for computing the rate for occupancy. It should be based on the value of the rooms in relation to the rest of the hotel, and he believed it would be nearer $200,000.

Mr. Bennett said he could not discuss that as he was not a hotel man. He understood that when the Chateau was built it was not expected to be a profitable undertaking. It was an adjunct to the facilities of the National capital. As for the rate, he knew it was based on the percentage of occupancy and he had been informed the fifteen rooms he occupied were only occupied at an average of fifty-two days per year. His was an all-year rate and was paid whether he occupied the rooms or not.

Mr. Duff—I occupied one of those rooms that now makes part of your suite, during two seasons, and I paid $8 a day.

Mr. Hanson—I think they owe you a refund.

Mr. Duff—Will you get it for me?

Mr. Hanson—Will you give me a commission?

Mr. Duff admitted his wife had accompanied him and the rate was for two people.

SERVICE GIVEN
"In addition to the occupancy of the rooms, do you get service from the hotel?" asked Mr. Duff.

"The regular service of the hotel," replied the Prime Minister.

"Maid service and laundry?" pursued Mr. Duff.

Mr. Bennett replied he got the service which was usually given by hotels.

"I think a statement from the management is very desirable," declared Hon. D. Chablin, Conservative, Lincoln, Ont. "It is another example of the extraordinary foolishness in expenditures on hotels in this country."

The Prime Minister's statement was correct, so far as he knew, Sir Henry Thornton said. Some question had been raised as to the accuracy of the cost of the suite. He would have that thoroughly checked immediately.

So far as the hotel was concerned, the Premier continued, the officers of the C.N.R. regarded this as a business proposition. The desirability of having the Prime Minister as a guest of the hotel would be understood.

Another factor was that while there were a certain number of suites in the chateau, there were none corresponding to what might be termed a "vice-regal suite." Consequently the introduction of a suite of that sort was desirable.

An item of approximately $30,000 for furnishings had been mentioned, Sir Henry said. It ought to be explained these furnishings were never regarded by the hotel management as specifically assigned to that suite. They were part of the general equipment of the hotel.

Sir Henry repeated that the matter was a purely business proposition, and reiterated that he assumed entire responsibility for the sagacity of the arrangement as such.

To Mr. Duff, Mr. Manion said it had not been necessary for him either to approve or disapprove the latter sent him by Sir Henry Thornton. It had been written following a discussion in the minister's office, at which Mr. Manion had said there was some criticism about the alterations. Sir Henry had then "rather headstrongly" taken full responsibility, said the minister.

NUDE ARRESTS ARE MOUNTING

Nearly 400 Doukhobors in Custody After Arrests Yesterday

Total of 195 Already Sentenced; Others Face Penitentiary Terms

Nelson, May 13.—Arrests by the Provincial Police yesterday brought the grand total of nude Doukhobor parades in custody to-day to 387. They are segregated as follows: 195 already sentenced to terms of three years each; fifty-five women on trial to-day for nude parading; 137 men, women and children in custody for an attempted nude march to Nelson.

While the police, under Staff Sergeant G. J. Duncan of Penitentiary, were rounding up fanatics on the Kettle Valley Railroad yesterday afternoon, seventy-seven men were on trial before Magistrate John Cartmel for appearance in the nude at Thrusville last Sunday. They all received three-year sentences.

The Grand Forks area was practically denuded of nude demonstrators as a result of the round-up yesterday which followed an attempt of the Sons of Freedom to march from the Graham Ranch, near there, to Nelson on a public highway. The police had made their appearance the police swooped down and took 137 into custody.

PUT IN CURLING RINK
The nudists were rushed to Grand Forks in three school buses, which were requisitioned for the purpose and placed under guard in the curling rink, at the rear of the courthouse.

Ever since the wholesale arrest of the nudists, but they were not permitted to leave the curling rink. Two or three times they came to the railway track and once last week started for a march on Grand Forks, but were stopped.

Yesterday the avowed objective of the move was a pilgrimage to Nelson, where some hundreds of Sons of Freedom are in jail.

At 5:30 o'clock word came from the police scouts that the nudists had marched a mile down the Kettle Valley railway track from the Graham Ranch to the suspension footbridge over the Granby River, and crossing by the footbridge, had entered on the north highway.

That is the road which, arriving near Grand Forks, swings across Granby Smelter ground, avoiding the city and coming into the Cascade highway.

NO RESISTANCE
The police immediately went out and arrested the entire parade, eight uniformed officers taking part. No resistance was offered by the nudists, who were allegedly under the leadership of Paul Losson, an aged man who was clubbed on the head in connection with the Glade evictions, a couple of weeks ago and who was treated in the hospital at Nelson, and Paul Miller.

This practically cleared the Grand Forks area of extremists, only about a dozen, who failed to join the pilgrimage, being left at the Graham Ranch. Although Aird had negotiated the contract with the Hydro Commission while he himself was still negotiating with the Reine interests.

Aird went on the stand shortly before lunch, and told of first entering the Madawaska negotiations through J. G. Kerry, consulting engineer, and his partner, Millard. Kerry had obtained an agreement to sell from the J. A. O'Brien interests of Ottawa, owners of the power rights on the river, and Aird had visited the then Premier of Ontario, G. Howard Ferguson, regarding the sale of power to the Hydro.

Aird had told him to go and see C. A. Magrath, at that time hydro chairman, he said.

A letter written by Kerry to O'Brien stated Aird had been told to submit tenders to the Hydro by Magrath, and also said "Magrath apparently wants Aird to consult him at each step."

This, Aird maintained, meant the Hydro chairman wanted to know what plans would be used in developing the power of the river.

Attention has also been drawn to the large family record of Mr. and Mrs. William Stewart, 510 Wilson Street, who recently celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. Of their family of thirteen, eight sons and three daughters survive. The surviving children are Allan, Winnipeg; William, North Vancouver; James, Saanich; Mrs. Alfred Stewart, Esquimalt; Alex., George Arlow, John, Dave and Mrs. Harry Wilkinson, Victoria, and Robert and Duncan Stewart living at home. There are also seventeen grandchildren.

A REAL FAMILY
A reader draws attention to the fact that although Vancouver Island may cite creditable families of fifteen it would fall many short in a Canadian-wide contest. He produced a picture of the family of Col. Robert James Wainwright, Melville, Sask. When they held a reunion in November three years ago twenty of their children were present.

Search this afternoon was again renewed in the James Bay district where a report that all records to date would be beaten by a family on Montreal Street.

Winnipeg, May 13 (Canadian Press)—William G. McMahon, president of the Woods Manufacturing Company and widely-known in western Canada as a manufacturer's agent, died suddenly here yesterday. He had been a resident of Winnipeg for more than forty years.

Close friends said Mrs. Lindbergh, who is preparing for another baby in the late summer, had accepted the news with her "usual equanimity."

Baby Slaying Viewed As Work of Fiend

"Let's Gangsters Out," Says Police Official in New York

Chicago Business Men Swell Reward For Capture of Murderers

Associated Press

New York, May 13.—Assistant Chief Inspector John J. Sullivan, head of the New York detective bureau, expressed the belief to-day abduction and killing of the Lindbergh baby was the work of a maniac. "I have no direct knowledge of the case, but that is the way it appears to me now."

"This apparently lets the gangsters out," commented the inspector, who has worked on many abduction cases in New York. "To me it looks like the work of a maniac. I have no direct knowledge of the case, but that is the way it appears to me now."

Chicago, May 13.—A shocked world to-day shared the sorrow of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh and the resources of many states were pledged to a relentless hunt for the abductors and slayers of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr.

Chicago's hardened crime fighters received the news with shock. Frank Loesch, head of the Chicago Crime Commission, said he believed the abductors and slayers of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. expressed unanimous belief the abduction and slaying of the child was the work of a fiend, not a gangster. "Authorities must look for clues in the immediate vicinity of the scene of the crime," advised Loesch.

REWARDS OFFERED
Chicagoans totaling $1,100 were offered by two Chicagoans for the apprehension and conviction of the abductors and slayers. William Doyle, master in chancery in New York, said he would offer $1,000 and C. A. Cote, a business man, $100.

NEWARK-PARIS SOLO
Flight Over Atlantic

Harbor Grace, Nfld., May 13.—"Lanky" Lou Reichers, thirty-one-year-old speed flier of Arlington, N.J., completed the first hop of his projected three-hop Atlantic solo flight early this morning. He completed the jump from Newark to Harbor Grace in six hours, twenty-two minutes.

Left Newark at 10:02 p.m. yesterday. Harbor Grace was his first scheduled refueling stop on a three-hop flight from Newark, N.J., to Paris, France. Harbor Grace he proposed to fly to Dublin, Ireland, there to pick up a second supply of fuel and continue to Paris.

QUICKLY REPAIRED
It was at first believed repairs to a stabilizer he had broken in landing would hold him here for several hours, but mechanics began on the broken part immediately and repairs were completed within two hours. The plane was refueled in record time.

The speed flier is attempting to halve the time Colonel Lindbergh's non-stop flight from New York to Paris in 1927. When he left here Reichers expected to make the flight in about sixteen hours.

The 500 gallons of fuel in the tanks of his machine were believed sufficient for twelve flying hours. The aviator hoped to make 300 miles an hour.

RELATIVES GRIEVE
Minneapolis, Minn., May 13.—Mrs. W. A. Butler, aunt of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, to-day said she had had a feeling for several weeks the Lindbergh baby was dead. "It is terrible," she said between sobs.

At Red Lake Falls, Mrs. V. A. Lindbergh-Christie, half sister of the flying colonel, deeply shocked, called it "the most wanton crime in the world."

Arrests Are Expected In Lindbergh Hunt

The sleeping suit, Dr. Condon said, was in the possession of Col. Lindbergh. A description sent out immediately after the abduction said the child was wearing a white flannel sleeping suit—a garment that would cover him from neck to feet.

Two other bits of evidence supposedly establishing the authenticity of the alleged abduction group that dealt with Dr. Condon also were at present in the possession of Col. Lindbergh, the paper said. Dr. Condon told the prosecutor. They were described as two diaper pins. A diaper which the baby wore when it was abducted is missing.

In the final negotiations when the $50,000 ransom money was turned over to the baby's sleeping suit was given as the final bit of evidence of the identity of the abductors, it was stated.

TO BE CREMATED
Trenton, N.J., May 13.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh arrived late to-day to see the body of his abducted baby taken to Linden, N.Y., for cremation.

The body was placed in a light oak casket preparatory to being taken to Linden.

ORPHANAGE OWNS LAND
Hopewell, N.J., May 13.—The land where the body of the Lindbergh baby was found yesterday is owned by St. Michael's Orphanage of Hopewell. The 500 children of the orphanage had been praying daily that the child might be left unharmed at the door of their institution.

A characteristic twisting of the toes provided a final means of identifying the murdered Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. Dr. Philip van Ingen, who was present at the child's birth, examined the body and found it also had the same skull formation.

EARL OF EGMONT IS INJURED

Southampton, Eng., May 13.—Frederick Percival, tenth Earl of Egmont, who left his Alberta farm to assume the title in 1929, is in a hospital here suffering from internal injuries and concussion received in an automobile accident.

The accident occurred in the New Forest Wednesday when the earl was returning from a Southampton theatre to Avon Castle, Ringwood, Hampshire. The car was being driven by a friend, and at a crossroads collided with another car, both being wrecked.

Rheumatism Goes Swollen Joints Vanish

New Medicine Rids Joints and Muscles of Torturing Stiffness, Swelling and Lameness

EASES PAIN FIRST DAY

If you suffer from torturing rheumatic pains, sore muscles or stiff inflamed joints, it's because your system is full of the dangerous poisons that cause rheumatism and make thousands helpless. What you need is RU-MA, and need it right now. RU-MA acts on the blood, kidneys and liver, and helps drive the dangerous rheumatic poisons from the system through the natural channels of elimination—it eases pain the first day.

You must use an internal medicine to free the joints and muscles of crippling stiffness, soreness and torturing pain. That's why RU-MA succeeds while external remedies and pain deadening drugs give only temporary relief.

So many terrible sufferers from rheumatism in this vicinity have been freed from their rheumatic agony in less than a week that McParlane Drug Co. and Vancouver Drug Co. urge you to buy a bottle of RU-MA to-day and begin now to get rid of all your Rheumatic aches and pains. (Adv.)

UNITED CHURCH IN CONFERENCE

Victoria Calls to Be Considered at New Westminster Gathering

New Westminster, May 13.—"Hearings in all lands are filled with fear. We have come to the end of an age, and we know that somehow we have missed our way. What then is the function of the church in such a time as this?"

To his query Dr. A. E. Mitchell, preaching the sermon at the opening period of worship Wednesday evening of the British Columbia conference of the United Church, made answer: "It is to stand as a perpetual witness to the things of the spirit."

MANY DELEGATES

There were 265 ministers and delegates from all parts of the province, beside many Vancouver and New Westminster worshippers, at the opening service, which was followed by communion.

"I wish my mother could have been here," said Rev. G. O. Falls in his first address to conference after his election as president.

Rev. A. D. Archibald and Rev. H. E. Horton were chosen secretary and assistant secretary respectively. Rev. W. P. Bunt declined the nomination for conference treasurer. In presenting his yearly report Mr. Bunt showed total expenditures for the year of $5,801, of which $3,813 was spent for traveling expenses of conference members, the sum being distributed on a pro rata basis, all delegates participating equally.

TRANSFERS AND CALLS

The transfer committee reported that Rev. George J. Crabbe had been transferred to the Bay of Quinte conference, Rev. C. H. Huestis of Toronto from the British Columbia conference to the Alberta conference, Rev. G. Preston McLeod from Ontario to British Columbia, Rev. W. R. Seeley (superannuated) from Saskatchewan to British Columbia, Rev. W. H. Stevenson from British Columbia to Alberta, Rev. G. G. Webber from Alberta to British Columbia and Rev. R. W. Hardy from Saskatchewan to British Columbia. Rev. Mr. Hardy has been in charge of the congregation at Cranbrook for the past year and Rev. G. Preston McLeod is under call to Shaughnessy Heights Church, Vancouver.

Calls have been issued by St. James Church, Vancouver, to Rev. A. Wilson of Prince Rupert; by Jubilee Church, to Rev. R. Heriberto of Cedar Cottage Church; by Victoria West, to Rev. T. E. Rutledge of Powell River; and by Willamson Road, Victoria, to Rev. William Allen. These calls will be considered by the settlement committee.

CHARGES FLUNG IN U.S. SENATE

Reason For French Gold Withdrawals Advanced During Debate on Bank Reform Bill

Associated Press

Washington, May 13.—The Glass bank reform bill remained swamped yesterday in a torrent of personalities which climaxed in the charge that an employee of the United States Senate banking committee had caused serious French withdrawals of gold from this country.

This amazing declaration was flung out by the usually silent Senator Keen of New Jersey during a heated debate. He maintained Dr. H. Parker Willis, who served as economist for Senator Glass's subcommittee, had caused articles to French newspapers containing confidential information available only from the office of the comptroller of the currency, and of all the senators available only to Glass. The effect of the dispatches, he said, was withdrawal of more than $350,000,000 in gold between December and April, involving a shrinkage of ten times that much in open market credit. To link this charge to the bill under consideration, which he opposes, Keen said he believed Willis influenced the writing of the Glass measure.

SEATTLE CHINESE FUNERAL

Tacoma, Wash., May 13.—Thousands of persons yesterday saw the funeral of the late Lew Bow. The body was carried in a traditional Chinese cortege from here to Seattle for burial. Lew Bow, one of the best known Chinese on the Pacific Coast of the United States, was slain May 2. Four Chinese are held on murder charges.

The funeral service here was held and was attended by Chinese from far cities.

FINE RATE IS OFFERED

Civic Bond Issue Gives Assurance of 6 Per Cent For Fifteen Years

A feature of the $200,000 city of Victoria bond issue, which is now being sold in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000 direct from the city treasurer's office at the City Hall, is the fact that the investor obtains an assurance of a continuance of to-day's high interest rate for the next fifteen years. With the return of world conditions to a more normal level, it is anticipated interest rates will also drop and the holder of these 6 per cent bonds will reap considerable profit. That the public is full alive to the profit possibilities of these bonds is indicated by the demand for them at the City Hall. The mounting total of money deposited in the treasury indicates there is much wealth here which only has to be shown a safe avenue of investment.

Up-land points have also been heard from, and many bonds have been sold to citizens in other municipalities who are attracted by an absolutely safe investment at the excellent rate of 6 per cent.

An interesting series of educational motion pictures will be shown under the auspices of St. Mary's A.Y.F.A. by Mr. Finckel at the hall this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hunter Miller of New York and Washington, D.C., have arrived to spend the next few months at their summer home.

Miss Barbara Johnson is expected home next week from Sidney, where for the last two weeks.

St. Mary's branch of the Women's Auxiliary to the W.S.C.C. held a garden party yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sterling, William Head, Main.

The members of the W.A. were assisted in serving tea by the Misses Nora Helgeson, Frances Tremayne, Gwyneth Meredith-Jones and Betty Cornwall. Ice cream was dispensed by John String. Geoffrey Lee was in charge of the gate.

An archery competition was in charge of R. D. Young.

Saanich Reeve Heads Beaches and Parks Body For Another Year

Members of the Victoria-Saanich Parks and Beaches Committee yesterday afternoon re-elected Reeve William Crouch as their chairman for the year. Reeve Crouch has been consistently interested in the work of the body and confidence in his direction was expressed.

Plans for expenditures at the beaches and parks under the control of the committee were discussed yesterday, but decisions were reserved until Reeve Crouch and Alderman John Worthington of Victoria, make an inspection tour to determine necessary work and report back.

The concessions for refreshment stands at Mount Douglas Park and Elk Lake were let to J. Smith and Mr. Webb respectively.

ARTILLERYMEN CAMP IN JUNE

Three batteries of artillery will undergo a course of training in camp at Macaulay Plains next month. The 8th B.C. Coast Brigade will enter camp on June 17 and will remain until July 1, the units under canvas being the 55th and 56th Coast Defence batteries and the 2nd Anti-aircraft battery.

Two units of the brigade will train during July at Camp Hughes in Manitoba, these being the 58th Field Artillery and the 13th Heavy Siege batteries.

All units are now undergoing intensive training preliminary to camp, the specialist class being well attended. Recruiting has been heavier than usual and practically all units will enter camp at full strength, Lieut.-Col. T. B. Monk has announced.

MANY VISITORS TO HOSPITALS

Jubilee and St. Joseph's Inspected Yesterday, Florence Nightingale's Birthday

That Victoria hospitals are well in the van of progress was apparent to the many citizens who availed themselves of the opportunity afforded by "Hospital Day" yesterday to visit the Jubilee and St. Joseph's Hospitals. This day is observed annually on the anniversary of the birthday of Florence Nightingale, the pioneer nurse who set in motion the movement which led to the development of the modern hospital.

AT JUBILEE
A bevy of nurses acted as escorts to the visitors at the Jubilee Hospital, who were shown the nursery, the X-ray department, the operating rooms, some of the public wards, the Strathcona ward, which during the last year has been converted into a semi-private accommodation for ten patients, and the kitchen, much interest being taken in the equipment of the various departments.

ST. JOSEPH'S
Visitors to St. Joseph's Hospital were shown the many improvements and alterations effected during the year, including the creation of a new room for use by the consulting staff, adjacent to the night nurses' dining-room; new chart rooms installed in Humboldt Street wing; Section 2A; the remodeling of the old chart room for the making up of sterilized dressings; the complete refurnishing and redecorating of Mother Provincial's parlor, and the enlargement of the diet kitchen on the fourth floor of the Humboldt Street wing. The entire new wing will be screened within the next few days, the contract having been let to the Red Cross Workshop. The former infirmary has been converted into a small emergency ward, the chapel, to that patients may be wheeled in to attend the service.

Tea was served in the nurses' home under the able supervision of Mrs. Walter S. Fraser.

V.O.N. Approves Centralized Cost Accounting Plan

Canadian Press
Ottawa, May 13.—The principle of a centralized cost accounting system was approved by the board of governors of the Victorian Order of Nurses, Canada, in session here yesterday.

Business Club Hear Causerie On Gregorian Chants

The history and development of Gregorian music was delightfully analyzed in the causerie given by Mrs. J. Hebdon Gillespie at her home, "Windyside," Fairfield Road, yesterday evening before an interested audience of about one hundred members and friends of the Business and Professional Women's Club. The affair was held in aid of the club's convention fund for the entertainment of delegates expected here at the federation's annual meeting in July.

Mrs. Gillespie's tale, which traced the development of the Gregorian chant from medieval times, was illustrated with some unusually beautiful gramophone records. At the close she was thanked by Miss Margaret Clay, president of the club, who presented her, on behalf of the members, with a beautiful basket of flowers in appreciation of her active interest in the club's well-being. The pleasure of the evening was enhanced by the singing of Mrs. Wilson-Jones, who accompanied herself at the piano.

FIGHTS BIRTH CONTROL LAWS

Margaret Sanger Renews Battle Against U.S. Prohibitory Legislation

Washington, May 13.—Margaret Sanger, internationally-known birth-control advocate, yesterday renewed her battle against laws prohibiting dissemination of such information.

Appearing before a United States Senate judiciary subcommittee, she urged approval of the bill by Senator Hatfield (Republican, W. Va.), to exempt physicians, hospitals, licensed clinics and others in the medical fraternity from existing bans.

The bill, she said, "directly affects the health, happiness and future development" of 25,000,000 women and the future lives of 46,000,000 children.

Tells Story Of Life In Medical Mission In East

The Young Women's Missionary Society of First United Church held its monthly meeting yesterday evening at the home of Mrs. M. L. McLennan, 311 Vancouver Street. Seventeen guests were present, many of whom came representing the senior society. An unusually interesting program was provided, with Mr. Henry Rive, in the chair.

The president welcomed Mrs. E. F. Church and Mrs. T. W. A. Gray, the former conducting an impressive devotional period, with a scripture reading, followed by prayer. Mrs. Gray presided over the singing of hymns, and Mrs. Church presented a paper on "Life in the East." Mrs. Gray produced many excellent photographs which were eagerly examined by those present.

A solo, "Go, Bury Thy Sorrow" was beautifully rendered by Miss Ethel Mercer, and Mrs. William Wright sang the verses of a hymn, the audience joining in the refrain.

Attractive articles were brought in to complete a layette which is to be presented to a mission hospital in the province. Mrs. J. A. Skelton presided over this feature. A very satisfactory financial report was read by the treasurer, Miss Melville.

Mrs. R. W. Mayhew extended an invitation to the members to hold their June meeting at her home, 2551 Beach Drive. This invitation was accepted with thanks. Mrs. W. G. Wilson also offered her home for a later meeting.

Votes of thanks to the speaker of the evening and the hostess were proposed by Mrs. P. B. Couland. A buffet supper was served by Mrs. Sidney Shaw's Circle, Mrs. E. F. Church pouring tea.

Troublesome Wife Sold For $10 And Dog

Press Story of 1832 Tells of Man's Disposal of "a Broom-Serpent": Public Advised to Avoid Her Like "Cholera Morbus" or Roaring Lion.

London, May 13.—The Times of 1832 had the following account of the sale of a wife. "On Saturday, the 7th inst., the inhabitants of this city witnessed the sale of a wife by her husband (who) spoke nearly as follows: "Gentlemen—I have to offer to your notice my wife, May Ann Thompson, otherwise William, whom I mean to sell to the highest and fairest bidder. She has been to me only a broom-serpent. I took her for my comfort, and the good of my house, but she became my tormentor, a domestic curse, a night invasion, and a daily evil (great laughter). Gentlemen, I speak truth from my heart when I say, may God deliver us from troublesome wives and troublesome widows (laughter). Avoid them the same as you would a mad dog, a roaring lion, a loaded pistol, cholera morbus, Mount Sinai, or any other pestilential phenomena in nature. Now I have shown you the dark side of my wife, and told you her faults and her failings; I will now introduce the bright and sunny side of her. . . . She can read novels and milk cows she can laugh and weep with the same ease (that you could not make run, gig or whisky, but she is a good judge of the quality from my experience in testing them. I therefore offer her, with all her perfections and imperfections, for the sum of 10s."

After an hour or two, she was purchased by Henry Meers, a pensioner, for the sum of 30s (£10), and a Newfoundland dog.

Women Take Part In "Gold Rush"

London, May 13.—The Manchester Guardian says: "One extraordinary feature of the gold rush in London is the fact that at a time when cautious women have learned to hold tightly to their handbags and to look askance at any motor car crawling near the curb so many thousands of people are travelling about carrying stores of gold and as little afraid of molestation that they will even stop on leaving a shop to finger their banknotes in the street."

One jeweller said many women had been tremendously surprised to find how small was the value of things for which they had given a high price. One woman, for instance, had paid £870 for a beautiful watch, a gold mesh bag. It was difficult for her to understand that as gold it was worth only £150, and that the rest of the price she paid represented the fine workmanship and the heavy overhead charges of a West End jeweller. Another woman, brought in a gold bracelet that had cost £45; she got £5 for it.

Girls' Friendly Society.—The Girls' Friendly Society will hold a silver tea and social and home cooking on Tuesday evening next, at 7 o'clock, in the Guild Room, Memorial Hall, in aid of the unemployed men's recreation fund. The programme will include music, sketch and dancing by pupils of Mrs. Hudson.

Glorifying Yourself

By ALICIA HART

FOOT FAULTS CAN BE CORRECTED

Hot weather is open season on foot trouble. Granted your feet have always stood by you handsomely, when damp, sticky hot days come they are apt to make you aware of their presence. If you actually suffer, go to an orthopedic specialist. There are practicing foot doctors who go into the reason for this pain or that.

Fallen arches, flat foot and a lot of foot misery can be avoided by the proper care when you first feel trouble sneaking up on you.

Most hospitals now have orthopedic departments where the fee is nominal. If you cannot afford a private specialist, some of the best foot specialists are apt to be connected with the large hospital in your town.

If you have no actual foot trouble but your feet just are uncomfortable, how about the shoes you are wearing? Are they long enough?

Most women take a size larger every five years, from the time they are twenty-five to forty. Perhaps without realizing it, you are buying shoes just a trifle too short. A half-size longer will make little difference in the looks of your feet. But that little bit of extra length will give your toes the freedom they crave.

If you have gained weight, you may need both a little longer and little wider shoe. Moreover, if you are much heavier, perhaps you need a shoe with an arch support in it.

These are all little precautions, but with hot weather around the corner, it behooves us all to look to our feet.

IMPORTANT SOCIETY WEDDING

It was a wedding of importance to society folk of two nations when Miss Katherine Kelsie Stewart of Haverford, Pa., and Vicomte Eric de Spoelberch of Belgium were married at Bryn Mawr, Pa., the other day. Here they are pictured after the church ceremony. Paul May, Belgian Ambassador to the United States, was best man.

CHURCH INCOME MUCH REDUCED

But Proportionately More Given, B.C. Conference of United Church Told

Since Union $1,300,000 Spent on Properties in Canada; $320,000 Abroad

New Westminster, May 12.—Though the total income of the missionary and maintenance fund of the United Church was $321,000 less in 1931 than in 1930, yet Dr. Bruce of Toronto reporting at the session of the B.C. conference in Queen's Avenue Church yesterday declared that proportionately the church gave more than in the previous year, the income of its contributors having been greatly reduced during the year.

DEFICIT GROWS.

The total income of the missionary and maintenance fund was $2,405,000 and from interest on investments there came $810,000 more, he said. This made the United Church stand third in rank among the great churches of the North American Continent. But, he reported, there was added to the deficit already existing about $320,000, he stated.

Notwithstanding the lean years, since union there was spent on new properties by the fund $1,300,000 in Canada and $320,000 on mission fields abroad. In B.C. he said that thirteen local charges had paid 50 per cent of the total raised, which was $700,000. As to the missionary work, he said, there were at work fourteen in Africa, fourteen in Trinidad, forty-five in India, 112 in West China, twelve in South China, twenty-eight in Korea and forty-two in Japan.

The building of a twenty-bed hospital at Burns Lake was the outstanding achievement of the year, stated C. A. Wickens, who reported on the activities of the Women's Missionary Society of the church for British Columbia. The work of the W.M.S. also includes active co-operation in the hospital work going on at Port Simpson, Hazelton, Bella Bella, and the Oriental Hospital, Vancouver. The total income of the B.C. branch for the year 1931 was $37,000, she stated, and medical supplies were forwarded to the value of $3,500. The position of the work in B.C. was third among the provinces of the Dominion. Mrs. Wickens was accompanied on the platform by Mrs. W. H. Orr, Mrs. Devonshire and Mrs. Reid.

Profits of the publishing house at Toronto of $70,000, made during 1931, were turned over to the pension fund of the church.

Young people's unions in four presbyteries and the acquisition of new permanent campuses were reported to the conference by Rev. E. H. Maclean, secretary of the religious education work.

MISSION WORK

Rev. Dr. S. S. Osterhout, superintendent of missions, spoke on the work of the home missions with special reference to the Oriental work.

Rev. George A. Wilson, superintendent of missions, also addressed the conference dealing with the home mission work. Dr. Wilson declared that the home mission was the greatest in Canada. There was nothing more important than these activities conducted on the frontiers, preserving Canada as a Christian country. The need of missionary work among the non-Anglo-Saxon people of this country was stressed by Dr. Wilson, who said that in some foreign districts children were being saturated with communist literature.

Rev. C. M. Tate of Victoria, veteran missionary among the Indians for many years, was introduced to the conference and spoke a brief welcome. Expressing appreciation of the aid furnished by the provincial government, Rev. H. P. Davidson spoke briefly on mission work carried on in the unemployment relief camps. He praised highly the type of men found in these camps.

Rev. A. W. McIntosh, Vancouver, presented the report on the foreign mission committees. He presented a resolution, endorsed by the conference, that this was no time for retreat but for adventurous advance in connection with foreign missions. One of the most helpful accomplishments during the past year was the radio broadcasting under the direction of the Vancouver Presbytery, convener of missionary information, this work being still continued.

James Island

Mrs. S. M. McPhee was hostess at bridge when she entertained with four tables. The guests present were Mrs. D. A. Macgibbon, Miss Giles, Mrs. A. Dennison, Mrs. M. J. Watson, Mrs. Noske, Mrs. W. J. Sanders, Mrs. T. Mawhinney, Mrs. C. Belfrage, Mrs. W. Doran, Mrs. A. Emmens, Mrs. J. Clegg, Mrs. E. Rivers, Mrs. S. E. Bradley, Mrs. A. J. Peirce, Mrs. J. Doran, Miss Barbara Ford and Mrs. W. C. Bond. The prizes were won by Mrs. A. J. Peirce and Mrs. J. Doran.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Doran and their children, James and Yvonne, and Miss Nan Thompson, have returned from Qualicum Beach, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. Aldous.

Miss Eva Wallace of Wellington is the guest of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. W. Reid.

The James Island Sunday School closed on Sunday, when the prizes for attendance were presented by Mrs. A. E. Emmens, the superintendent.

Your Baby and Mine

BY MYRTLE MEYER ELDER

COD LIVER OIL GOES BACK ON THE SHELF

During the lengthy fall and winter season when the sun is absent or infrequent in the temperate or northern climates, we give the child cod liver oil as a routine measure. This supplies the body with that elusive element called vitamin D, without which the body cannot make the best use of the mineral of the diet, in which case the bones and teeth suffer from a deprivation. Cod liver oil acts in the body exactly as does sunlight on the bare skin. Obviously, when the temperature has moderated, so that we can substitute sunlight for cod liver oil, we do that very thing.

COD LIVER OIL MONTHS

In the months for cod liver oil dosages are in most climates from September until June. From June to September we let the children don their sun-suits, put them out to play in a sand-pile during the cooler periods of the day, and let the vitamin D element be manufactured in the body by the ac-

YARDLEY TALCUM

MEN and women meet on common ground in their appreciation of Yardley Talcum. It is so fine... so cooling... so absorbent. And it is antiseptic. Skin comfort is its gift—a gift that has made Yardley's THE Talcum in such warm climes as Khandaahar and Cairo, where fine Talcum is so utterly essential. You may have Yardley Talcum in Lavender, loved above all other fragrances, or in Freesia or April Violets. At all good drug and department stores—35 cents in aluminum containers—50 cents

YARDLEY, LONDON—Toronto, New York, Pa.

Yardley also offers you a mist-fine dusting powder at $1.50—and soft, fragrant bath crystals at $1, $2, $3 and $4.

tion of the sun upon the child's bare skin.

The small baby under six weeks of age can be taken out for an airing, but sunlight is still unsuitable for his tender skin. But as he grows in health and strength, his small body may be subjected to the rays of the sun for limited periods each day. A minute on one side, then a minute on the other is quite enough for the first day. The time may be increased one minute a day until the baby begins to tan faintly.

BE CAUTIOUS

Always we must remember that the baby's skin is thin and easily burned, and that the rays of the sun are healthy only up to the point at which the skin is injured. If the skin is sunburned, it is affected as it would be if burned by any other medium, which is anything but a benefit to the child.

Also it is wise, as always, to protect the baby's eyes from the sun's bright rays and to avoid overdoing sunbaths in the hottest weather. Their benefits can be gathered without injury during the temperate spring months. During the hot weather baby should be kept cool and in the shade for the hot portions of the day.

The small amount of clothing worn by all children these days leaves such large areas of the skin bare to sun and air that any frantic efforts to give sunbaths need never be made. Just keep the baby and child lightly dressed, give them the advantages of sun on the bare skin, and remember to avoid the disastrous results of too excessive exposure to heat and sunlight when the weather is torrid.

Daily Health Service
Vacations For Children, If Properly Planned, Provide Course In Nature Study
By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

The average adult has a much harder time choosing a suitable vacation than does a child. Summer vacations offer opportunity for building robust health, for getting a great deal of rest, food and sunshine, which are important in proper development.

In a recent consideration of this subject, H. G. Bull mentions a few of the ways in which a child may have a pleasant vacation without a great deal of expense. A few days at a farm during haying, or a week-end trip to some near-by pond where children can help to set up camp and to prepare camp meals will give the child a great thrill and provide everything that a vacation can provide.

The child who gets the opportunity to raise rabbits or chickens or build something outdoors during the vacation months, provided there is available a large yard, will also get everything that a vacation can supply. Particular importance attaches to change of companions or environment during the vacation season. If a family consist of older and younger children, both groups will have a better vacation if permitted to be apart. A vacation offers great opportunity to teach new things pleasantly. The beginnings of biology are best learned in vacation time. Nature books are not available which provide good guides to flower beds, insects and physiologic formations in every part of the country. The child may collect its specimens, preserve them in cases or in books, make sketches and in similar ways have fun and learn at the same time.

One of the chief advantages of a vacation is the opportunity it affords for teaching children of fairly well-to-do families how to live simply and without great expense. The child used to being waited on to sophisticated meals, and to every possible attention may learn easily during its vacation how to take care of its own clothes, how to wash and to cook, and even the elementary aspects of cooking and enjoy the whole procedure as vacation fun instead of disagreeable tasks that someone else does at home.

B.C. APPLE MEN PLAN ACTION

Want Preference Duty From Britain of Possibly Two Shillings a Box

Canadian Press
Vernon, May 13.—That the British Columbia fruit and vegetable industries must have representation at the Imperial Economic Conference and that E. J. Chambers is the man to give the industries the representation they need, is the decision of the agricultural products committee named in consultation with the provincial government.

Decision was unanimous that there must be thorough preparation of the case for a preference of Canadian fruits, the ablest representation at the negotiations which will precede and probably be co-incident with the sessions of the conference, and in the selection of Mr. Chambers. The question of finances is difficult and a committee of four has been elected to arrange for them. It is all the more complicated because it is not known how much the cost will be, the uncertainty being due to the unknown length of time it may be necessary to be in attendance at the deliberations in Ottawa.

Present at the meeting of the committee were: E. J. Chambers, R. G. L. Clarke, R. H. Macdonald, W. H. Robertson, V. B. Robinson, G. A. Barrat, O. Nesbitt, J. A. Grant, Major M. V. McGuire, secretary, and W. S. Harris. Hugh Dalton and H. Beech were unable to attend.

In discussing the situation, Mr. Chambers expressed the opinion that previous to the formal deliberations at the conference, it will be advisable for Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, and other fruit-producing sections of the Empire to examine their situation and if possible to reach an agreement for close co-operation. He read some correspondence received from South Africa and New Zealand. The communication from the latter Dominion disclosed the fact that they appear to favor a quota system rather than tariff protection.

Preference for a specific duty was expressed rather than a quota on the grounds that it does not penalize the British consumers at a time when the Dominions have nothing to sell, and because it is not so easy to evade the present ad valorem duty which is 10 per cent.

The amount of the duty to be asked was considered. The New Zealand treaty sets a precedent of 40 cents a box. Apple-growers in the Old Country were said to be agreeable to five shillings a gross, which is the second largest import market because of the trade within the Empire activities.

During the discussions it was agreed that there should be thorough examination of what it is possible for the fruit and vegetable industries to buy from Britain.

ROMANO THEATRE

If Hugh Herbert turns up in his next picture as a "gentleman of color" or a hairy ape, do not be surprised.
Hugh's versatility continues to express itself. In the last year he has played a tramp, a tough guy, a dumb detective, a loafer, a traveling salesman and a Jewish comedian.
In RKO Radio Pictures' "Friends and Lovers," at the Romano Theatre, he is a Scotchman—in the uniform of a British "Tommy."

COLUMBIA THEATRE

Wallace MacDonald, noted for his debonair portrayals of screen bad men, has a new type of role in "Daring Danger," Tim McCoy's new Columbia starring picture, now at the Columbia Theatre. The usually dapper actor plays the role of a tramp, dressed in old shabby clothes, and with a ten days' growth of beard on his face. But Wallace does not mind, for it is a good acting role. Alberts-Vaughn, Robert Ellis, Vernon Dent, Ed Le Saint, and others are in the cast.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE

Clarence Muse, who is cast as Alabam in "The Last Parade," the Columbia picture now at the Playhouse Theatre, is not only a finished dramatic actor, but he also has a baritone voice of unusual sweetness. Much of the time that he is not actively engaged in his studio work, he spends in broadcasting over the radio. In addition, he is an accomplished dancer, and has produced many musical tabloids that have found their way to the vaudeville stage.

DOMINION THEATRE

The most mammoth set since the advent of the talkies was constructed for Samuel Goldwyn's screen adaptation of the Elmer Rice prize drama, "Street Scene," which is at the Dominion Theatre to-day. This huge set, which is a reproduction of an entire city block on New York's West Sixty-fifth Street, is the site of the entire action of the picture.

EMPIRE THEATRE

From Marlon, co-starred with Warren William, down to the least important extra and bit player, "Beauty and the Boss," the Warner Bros. picture showing at the Empire Theatre to-day, screens pulchritude in its feminine contingent. Among the more important beauties in the cast are Mary Doran, Lillian Bond, Yola d'Avril and Barbara Leonard.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Distinctly different from the general run of motion pictures is "The Viking," a dramatic all-talking picture which has for its background the forbidding but beautiful icefields off the Labrador coast. The producers have taken this unusual setting and coupled it with a thrilling story of two rugged seafarers who battle for the woman they both love.

"The Viking" is the picture which cost the lives of the youthful producer, Varick Fessenden, and twenty-five others, when the sailing ship after which the picture was named was destroyed off Horse Island, Newfoundland. "The Viking" is now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

Also on the same programme is "The Secret Witness," with William Collier Jr., and Una Merkel.

the Dominion Theatre, lies in its unusual aggregation of wild animals.

Among the many rare African specimens to be seen in this picture are the brindle gnu, the axil deer, the James buck, the sable antelope, spotted hyenas, zebras, baboons, gorillas, hundreds of monkeys, elephants, hippopotami and a dozen man-eating lions and leopards. Some of the most unusual animal thrills ever photographed were obtained, including a terrific charge of elephants through a pygmy village, destroying everything in their path.

Johnny Weissmuller, world's champion swimmer, was given the title role of Tarzan because of his remarkable physique. The cast includes Neil Hamilton, Maureen O'Sullivan, C. Aubrey Smith, Doris Lloyd, Forrester Harvey and Ivory Williams. The production was directed by W. S. Van Dyke of "Trader Horn" fame.

"The Silent Witness"
Will Open To-morrow

The discovery of a new screen comedian receives as much acclaim in Hollywood to-day as does the discovery of a new romantic star, for it is a well-known truth in picturedom that laughs are more precious than romantic thrills—being more difficult to induce.
Current comedy plaudits are being given Herbert Mundin, discovery of the Fox Film Corporation, who plays the role of the cockney taxi driver in "The Silent Witness," which opens to-morrow at the Empire Theatre.

THIRTY-TWO BOYS GET ON

Eight Return to England and Seven Have Disappeared in British Columbia

Thirty-two of the fifty boys brought out from Britain in 1930 and placed on farms and in homes in British Columbia are making good in their new homes, according to information received at the Parliament Buildings today. Eight returned home, seven have disappeared and one has had trouble with law officers.

The scheme has been in force some years in other parts of Canada, being under the auspices of the Imperial, Dominion and provincial governments or some responsible organization.

All boys under the plan had to be given approval by the director of emigration for Canada in Great Britain.

The boys brought to British Columbia were taken in charge by Dr. W. H. Gaddes, colonization commissioner, Vancouver, who has made periodical inspections of their homes, seeing that they are properly cared for and recording progress made by them.

No boys were brought out last year and none will come in 1932.

The annual meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held on Tuesday evening at 7.45 o'clock at the Arcade Building. Officers will be elected, annual reports received and a programme for the coming year will be considered.

Wednesday, May 18, has been proclaimed Goodwill Day in British Columbia, according to The B.C. Gazette issued to-day. On this day teachers will hold exercises aiming to make their schools an influence in the movement to promote goodwill among the nations and to advance the cause of peace throughout the world.

J. H. Byrne is to be Deputy Registrar of Vital Statistics for the registration district of Smithers, and John Robertson, of Mission City, is to be a commissioner under the Evidence Act within the province. The appointment of Frank Broughton, mining recorder in the Slovan division, as hospital director of the Slovan Hospital, New Denver, has been rescinded.

British Columbia's main highways are being put into shape for the heavy influx of tourists expected this year. It was stated at the Parliament Buildings yesterday. On the whole, little damage has resulted from frosts or floods during the last winter and spring, and another month will see all roads in excellent driving condition.

With the consent of the Attorney-General a manslaughter charge against Charles Cotman of Goldstream was withdrawn by the prosecution. A Saanich Police Court yesterday afternoon. The charge was laid following the death in an accident of William Morgan, who was riding with Mr. Cotman. A common danger charge against Mr. Cotman will proceed next week.

A very pleasant surprise marked the choir practice of Knox Presbyterian Church, Stanley Avenue, on Wednesday evening, when the ladies of the congregation prepared a delicious supper and a lovely bouquet of flowers. At the close the Rev. J. S. Patterson, minister, presented Mr. and Mrs. Patterson with a handsome silver flower basket suitably engraved and a lovely bouquet of tulips and narcissus.

The annual meeting of the Victoria branch of the League of Nations Society in Canada will be held in the lower room of the Sherrin Hall on Friday, May 20, at 8 p.m., when Professor F. H. Soward of the University of B.C. will give an address on "The League of Nations and the Far Eastern Crisis." Ministers of religion are requested to announce this meeting in their churches on Sunday, and to have congregations to attend. Dean Quinlan will take the chair at this gathering.

Withdrawal of the application of North Vancouver district ratepayers for a commissioner to administer the affairs of that area occasioned much satisfaction at the Parliament Buildings to-day. Officials pointed out that no municipal area in the province was being administered by other than regularly elected bodies during this time of financial stress. Some measure of relief to municipalities is hoped to result from the meeting of municipal and provincial taxation authorities later in the year.

Trial of the suit of Alex Gamon against Thomas S. Eastman for $3,150 special damages, resulting from collision at Dyar and Gorge Roads between the Grant motor car and a motorcycle on which Gamon, who is a minor and another boy, Arthur B. Grant, were riding was concluded in the Supreme Court here yesterday afternoon before Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald. Judgment was reserved.

Gamon, who had been in hospital for eight months, was brought into court on crutches, having again broken his leg because of his weakened condition. Witnesses placed on the stand by Ernest L. Tait and C. Harold Tait, counsel for Gamon, were Frederick Butterfield, John C. Gamon, Alec Gamon, Dr. G. C. Kennel, Charles J. Dangerfield, Roy Manzer, who conducted the defence, called Thomas S. Eastman, Nicholas Taylor, Constable A. C. Carmichael and James F. Sinclair.

A very successful social of the Tuxis and C.G.L.T. groups with their mothers and fathers by Miss Margaret Stanley, was held in Knox Presbyterian Church, Stanley Avenue, Tuesday evening. Under the leadership of Mrs. J. S. Patterson, the G.L.T. girls put on a pageant called "My Task," illustrating the help the Sunday school gives to the children and the co-operation it has with the mothers. The different characters were taken by Misses Margaret Stanley, Hannah Coult, Ella Mitchell, Mona Allan, Hilda Matson, Eleanor Dopp and Mrs. J. S. Patterson, while the hidden characters were Mattie and Mabel Brand, Edna Matson, Isla Mitchell with Cathie Forbister as pianist. Under the leadership of Reg. Scoble the Tuxis group acted a band minuet, singing and acting and causing much merriment. Mr. Scoble contributing a group of solos, while the boys were preparing for their share in the programme. Refreshments were served at the close of a most enjoyable evening.

GAS TERMS CONSIDERED

Agreement Between Oak Bay and B.C. Electric Power Co. Being Discussed

The Oak Bay Council in committee yesterday examined an agreement in regard to extension of the Victoria gas mains into the municipality, to serve well-settled areas north and south of Oak Bay Avenue.

The document was of a tentative character, submitted by the Victoria Gas Company Limited at the request of Rev. E. C. Hayward, who desired to terminate the stalemate in the negotiations which for two years has delayed extension of the mains. The draft agreement accords with agreements now effective in North Vancouver and Burnaby. If negotiation for extension of mains into Oak Bay is resumed it will be upon the basis of the new agreement, which has replaced all earlier documents.

Stanley Bulley Reviews Relation of Music to Church Service in Address

The relation of music to worship, together with an analysis of church music, formed the subject matter of an interesting lecture given by Stanley Bulley, organist and choir leader of Christ Church Cathedral, before an interested audience at the Memorial Hall yesterday evening.

Commenting upon the welcome movement which is being made in all bodies of the Christian church to elevate the standard of church music, the speaker observed that the organ prelude played an important part in creating the attitude of quiet meditation essential to worship, and to this end it was imperative that the prelude should be of an appropriate dignity and solemnity.

The choral prelude was recommended as the form of composition most suitable for the organ prelude, and Mr. Bulley gave examples of such by Bach, Parry and Kargelert.

The history of anthem and hymn tunes was also touched upon by the speaker in connection with the music he pointed out that English composers, covering a period of five centuries, offered an unrivalled selection from which organists, choir leaders and choirs might choose.

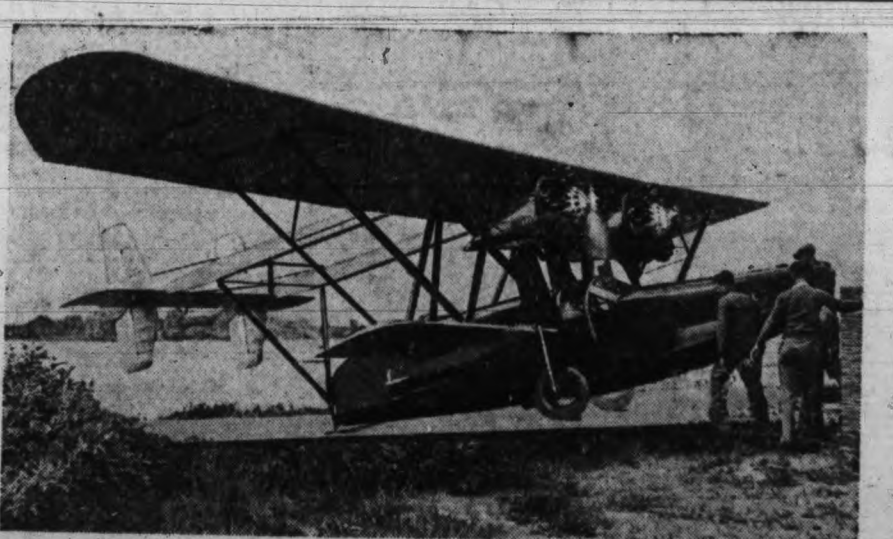

Mr. Bulley was assisted during the lecture by illustrations of anthem and church music sung by members of the Cathedral choir, who were included in the vote of thanks expressed to the speaker at the close by Dean Quinlan.

WIMBLEDON WILL SEE OLIVE WADE

Montreal, May 13.—For the first time Canadian lawn tennis will be represented in the women's events at the British lawn tennis championships at Wimbledon this year. Olive Wade, Toronto, first ranking woman player in Canada, will sail from Quebec tomorrow aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Australia, and it is understood she will enter the Wimbledon championships after playing in a series of invitation tournaments and other matches in Great Britain.

Miss Wade recently returned from Jamaica where she took part in the successful tour of a representative Canadian women's tennis team, which defeated the Canadian women's final at Victoria, B.C., last year by Marjorie Leeming, Vancouver, the youthful Toronto net star was acclaimed as Canada's leading woman player on her record for the year.

Here To-day On First Flight From Vancouver; To Start New Service To-morrow

In the face of a stiff breeze sweeping over Esquimalt harbor from the southwest, the big, grey Sikorsky amphibian, which will link Victoria and Vancouver this summer in a fast air service, made a perfect landing in Esquimalt this afternoon just before 1 o'clock. She left Vancouver, exactly at noon and after the flight across the Gulf in good time.

The big machine taxied up to the pier at the foot of Canteen Road, where her guests from Vancouver disembarked. They all declared the flight had been perfect, but the strong wind created air pockets and made the trip a little bumpy. The plane was scheduled to return to Vancouver later this afternoon and to-morrow morning will make her first regular trip between the two cities.

ROOM FOR TEN

There are comfortable roomy seats for ten passengers. Large windows permit the travelers to view the fine scenery of the Gulf. Twin motors guarantee the maximum of safety. Before landing to-day the plane made a graceful circle over the business district of Victoria. Her unusual design attracted a great deal of attention.

A welcoming party to greet the plane had largely dispersed when the machine arrived, as she had been delayed in Vancouver. Victorians who were on hand to greet the ship this morning were Alderman W. T. Strath, representing the City Council; R. H. B. Kerr, president, and R. W. Mayhew, representing the Chamber of Commerce; J. Warren, publicity commissioner; D. B. Robinson, G. H. Gardiner, postmaster; G. H. Stevens, Fred M. McGregor, Reeve James Elrick of Esquimalt, Harold Hubbard, local representative of the Canadian Airways Limited, operators of the new machine, and S. S. Chilton of the Gray Lines.

Invited guests from Vancouver who came over this morning included Major

Southport, Eng., May 13.—T. H. Cotton and W. T. Twiss, professionals, to-day tied for first place in the 1,000 guinea golf tournament with seventy-two-hole totals of 281. They will play off for first prize to-morrow. Cotton won last year with 267.

Walter Pursey, of the Englewood Club, Seattle, yesterday qualified among the sixty low scores to play the final two rounds to-day in the Thousand Guineas professional golf tournament. He had a 75-73-148.

Birthday Greetings Are Extended To-day To—

R. W. WHITTINGTON
DON CAMERON
HARRY MADLAND
THOMAS D. L. ALLENT
GEORGE C. MANNIX

DON CAMERON
Mr. Cameron is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Cameron. He operates the Green Mill and to-day is celebrating his twenty-eighth birthday. He is active in the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Ernest Whittington, 707 Linden Avenue, is a partner in the well-known firm of the Moore and Whittington Lumber Co. He is an active member and secretary of the board of the Metropolitan United Church. Last week in Vancouver he was elected to the executive of the B.C. division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

Mr. Hadland, 2583 Prior Street, was born in Whitney, Oxford, England, forty-six years ago yesterday. He has lived in Victoria for twenty-seven years and during that time has been interested and active in Sunday school work, teaching at Central Church for twenty years. Three years ago he took over the Lake Hill Sunday School.

Mr. Allnut, 3011 Scott Street, was born in Norfolk, England, May 12. Yesterday he celebrated his seventy-first birthday. For twenty-three years he has made his home in Victoria.

Mr. Mannix, 3378 Douglas Street, celebrated his eighty-seventh birthday yesterday. He is a veteran of the Wolsey Expedition, 1870.

DROVE 11,000 MILES BY CAR

W. D. Orvis, New York Financier, in Victoria To-day Via Florida and California

Believes That Transcontinental Motoring Will Become Popular in Future

Crossing the continent by motor from New York proved to be an interesting experience for Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Orvis, who are at the Empress Hotel to-day. Mr. Orvis, who is a partner in the financial firm of Orvis Bros. and Company and a member of the New York Stock Exchange, stated he had traveled 11,000 miles by car since leaving New York early in January. He first drove 2,000 miles to Florida and from Miami followed the sun through the Southern States to California.

"It is the first time I have been west and my wife and I greatly enjoyed the tour," said Mr. Orvis. "We have had enough traveling by automobile, however, and propose to return home by rail."

After spending a few days in Victoria Mr. and Mrs. Orvis will cross by the Inverness to Port Angeles for a visit to Crescent Lake. They will then ship their car and travel over the C.P.R. east, entering the states through St. Paul, Minn.

Transcontinental motoring should become more popular in the future, in the opinion of Mr. Orvis. No mechanical trouble marred the trip, the roads were good and the weather perfect.

NO CAUSE FOR FURTHER KICKS

British Columbia Canned Salmon Standard Will Be Closely Watched

Old Country users of British Columbia canned salmon, who have made several protests as to the standard set out to them, will have no cause for complaint in the future, according to John P. Babcock, assistant commissioner of fisheries to-day.

Mr. Babcock stated that the board of inspection appointed under Order-in-Council last month at Ottawa, will inspect and classify all shipments of canned salmon from this province to all destinations outside of Canada.

The appointment of the board was urged upon Ottawa by fishery officials and canners of this province and meets with the warmest commendation by Mr. Babcock. The personnel of the board follows: Herbert Miskin, W. Page Fowell and E. O. Corbett, T. H. Rand and A. S. Arkley, all of Vancouver.

Their work will commence with the current year's pack.

Alepisaurus Borealis Was 'Sea Monster'

Museum Officials Dispel Mystery of Green-eyed Esquimalt Catch; Commonly Known as Handsaw Fish

Museum officials to-day solved Esquimalt's "ogopogo" sea monster mystery after the green-eyed denizen of the deep had been placed on display in the window of Askey's Fish Market on Yates Street.

It is known as an "alepisaurus borealis," or in more familiar language as a handsaw fish. Officials of the museum stated it was not uncommon in British Columbia Coast waters, although seldom seen near the surface unless in a dying condition.

The fish was pulled out of Esquimalt Harbor Wednesday night by Joseph Askey and created considerable excitement.

LINDBERGH BABY AUTOPSY REPORT

Physician Says Fracture of Skull Caused Death of Flier's Little Son

Associated Press—Trenton, N.J., May 13.—The report of the autopsy performed on the Lindbergh baby by Dr. Charles Mitchell, county physician, reads as follows:

"May 12, 1932, report on unknown baby.

"Sex undetermined, due to marked decomposition of body. General appearance badly decomposed. Left leg from knee down missing. Left hand missing. Right forearm missing. Abdominal organs except liver missing. Thoracic organs except heart missing. Skin of head, face, portion of chest and right foot discolored and decomposed.

"Body shows evidence of prolonged exposure and usual decomposition that would occur in the course of approximately two to three months' time, depending on climatic and other conditions that might produce such results.

"Special characteristics: Unusually

Wee Swimmers Happy With New Prowess as The Times Swim Campaign Closes

Young Noel Morgan, Saanich Sprinter, Impresses; Has Chance to Go Far

Johnny Dundee, Victim of "Comeback Fever," Trying to Recall Old Days

SIX WEEKS ago, little Annie MacLean, chubby, smiling, twelve-year-old, was just another youngster with the desire to swim but no idea of how to accomplish the feat. This week, the same Annie, smiling a little more broadly, plunged in at the deep end of the Crystal Garden pool and swam the full fifty yards for the first time.

And if anyone thinks that is an easy feat for a little girl who could not swim a stroke a little over a month ago, they can just tell Annie. Captain Webb may have been proud when he conquered the English Channel before it became a habit with distance swimmers, but his thrill of accomplishment was no greater than that of the little tot who, struggled down the swimming tank.

Annie was one of the twenty-five most proficient youngsters who completed their parents and the Garden this week. Since the classes, sponsored by The Times, opened, the children have been given excellent training by Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ellison, instructors at the pool.

Of the 400 who entered, fifty per cent can now swim across the pool, a distance of forty feet. And although their endurance may not be very great, they at least have made a start and should be able to go home with rapid strides when they continue their summer swimming. Seventy-five per cent of the total enrolment is now able to plunge in the water and swim well enough to get out again.

Most important of all is the fact that virtually every one of the children have overcome their water-shyness. Even those less energetic kiddies who failed to come quite up to standard are broken in, and the parents and bigger brothers and sisters take them to the lakes and beaches this year they will not have the fear of the water which has frequently stopped many children from trying.

Those who took full advantage of the course and the pleasant, pleasant, sport rated second to none in building up physiques and maintaining bodily fitness.

The children, on the whole, have been exceptionally well behaved during the course and have tried hard. Their instructors have been patient and encouraging and have achieved gratifying results.

Those who saw the Inter-High School sports at Saanich this week were impressed with the possibilities of Noel Morgan, husky youngster, who took part in the gate honors. With the advantage of a slight down grade, he covered the 100 yards sprint in ten and three-fifths seconds. Although the slope was an aid to him, his speed was outstanding for a schoolboy on a grass track.

Another remarkable feature lay in the fact that the boy apparently has very little technique. He just ran. His arm action was fundamentally wrong, being far too rigid. There was great room for improvement in his legs, where he will have to develop a foreleg stretch. But all the same, he took the field and in good time.

With some good coaching Morgan might make considerable progress in the sport. He was seen when Bobby Granger "found" him, had very little in the way of technique. Clarence "Red" Edmondson, University of Washington track coach, has created a hurdling "teacher" made of two uprights with a bar across at two feet six inches or three feet six inches. A curtain hanging from the top piece is lowered to form the space through which the hurdler's body must go over the bar.

The comeback vogue which Jack Dempsey seems to have renewed, has spread afar. Now we have the spectacle of Johnny Dundee trying to call back the lost years.

Flyweight Babe Triscuro, former United States amateur champion and winner of thirteen straight fights since becoming a professional, has to borrow two bits from the folks when he wants to go to a movie. But that is his own wish, as he does not handle any of the money he earns by fighting, but lets his manager, Ollie Downes, take it home to the mama.

Jimmy Jennings, New York operator, sends along the information that the Schmeling-Sharkey fight scheduled for June 21 in New York, will be postponed because a great many political big shots will be attending the national conventions and would not be able to use their passes.

The Civic Staff won the only City League softball game played yesterday evening. They defeated the C.P.R. 33 to 6.

Young Students Ready For Big Day At Willows

Kiddies Under Seven Years Up to Those of Teen Ages to Compete in Annual Meet a Week Next Monday; Complete Entry List Released To-day; Field Events Scheduled for Next Thursday

Track stars in the bud, youngsters under seven years up to promising boys and girls in their early teens, will hold the sports spotlight on May 23 at the Willows, when the annual track and field finals of the city's public schools will be staged. Hundreds of children, the pick of their different institutions, will flock to the oval where the traditional battles for the various senior, intermediate and junior trophies will be fought, it was shown in the entry list released to-day. It will be the big day of the schools' athletic year, although the field competitions, scheduled for next Thursday, will also rank highly in the annals of the different institutions.

Deer Tags to Be Issued This Year

Deer tags at twenty-five cents each will be issued with licenses when hunters apply for the latter this year. These tags must specify the time and place of the kill and must be attached to all carcasses of deer. All revenue from this source will be applied to the accounts of the Game Board. Hunters not sealing each carcass with a tag lay themselves open to prosecution.

U.C.T. GOLFERS MEET SATURDAY

Over Fifty Expected to Contest Tournament at Gorge Vale Club

It is expected that over fifty golfers will contest the annual golf tournament of the United Commercial Travelers, to be held tomorrow afternoon at the Gorge Vale Golf Club. Eighteen holes medal competition will decide the winner. Handicaps up to thirty-six are allowed and a committee consisting of Albert Jones, Len Woodhouse, Louie Moser and Frank Partridge is working hard in allotting the proper handicaps.

Already forty-five players have entered the championship and post entries up to 2:45 o'clock to-morrow, the time of starting, will be received. The winner will receive the "Our Own Brand" trophy and twenty pounds of "Our Own Brand" butter, to be taken from the Central Creameries plant as required. Prizes will be given for first, second and third, best net, best gross, hidden hole and worst gross. There will also be two attendance prizes for the non-golfers and one for the golfer narrating the funniest incident occurring during the afternoon's play.

Prizes have been donated by Major Angus, Kelly Douglas Co., Shell Oil Co., Imperial Tobacco Co., Tooke Bros., J. V. Johnson, Valo & Sons and Dinmore Bros.

Supper will be served by Tom Kelly and seven councillors are expected to attend. Starting times will be made up by to-morrow morning.

FRED LENHART WHIPS KEN LEE

Tacoma, May 13.—Fred Lenhart, Tacoma light-heavyweight, won a decision over Ken Lee, Modesto, Cal., in the six-round main event of the ring show here yesterday evening. Lenhart, on his aggressiveness and landing by far the more punches, won five of the rounds, while the first was fairly even. Other than shooting over occasional rights, Lee was content to remain on the defensive. They boxed at catch weights, Lenhart weighing 174 pounds and Lee 167.

Neil Kilbane, Tacoma middleweight, won by a technical knockout over Cecil Geydel of Seattle in the fifth round, when Geydel's seconds tossed in a towel. Spokane, May 13.—Staying out of range of a pair of ripping fists Don Fraser, Spokane welterweight, outboxed Tiger Lee Page of New York to win the decision in their main event boxing match here yesterday evening.

ANDERSON WILL MEET NAVY BOY

Popular Seattle Middleweight to Meet Statney in Feature Bout Saturday

Des Anderson, popular Seattle middleweight who showed great form in his battle with Steve Neff here last week, has been signed to meet "Bull" Statney, rugged Northwest middleweight grappler in the main event on Promoter Fred Richardson's weekly wrestling bill to be presented at the Tillamook gymnasium Saturday night.

Anderson, one of the cleanest and most scientific wrestlers in the game, scored a hit with local fans when he rescheduled last week after an absence of more than seven or eight months.

Statney, who will furnish the opposition for Anderson this week is a former United States navy champion and is considered to be one of the roughest mat men in this section of the country. During the last few months he has met such well-known wrestlers as Iota Shima, flashy Nipponese mat man; Joe Parelli, former middleweight champion of the world; Bobby Rynd, Swedish middleweight champion; Jim Lamb, Greek whirlwind and numerous other boys highly rated in national wrestling circles.

Charles Macrae of Twin Falls, Idaho, and Rocky Brooks, Victoria, are billed for the semi-main event.

Brooks is well-known here, while Macrae has a very creditable record, having met many of the best heavyweights and light-heavyweights in this section of the country.

Chick Hafez, who has been performing with considerable brilliancy at bat for Cincinnati, but who has played in only seventeen of the Reds' twenty-eight games, finally won himself a regular's rating yesterday and took his place in the Big Six right at the top of the National League batting list. Hafez went to bat four times against Brooklyn yesterday and reaped out three singles. This feat gave him sixty-three times at bat, enough to be classed as a "regular," and a batting average of .413, third in the Big Six. His appearance forced Paul Waner out of the list. All the other major league leaders were kept idle by the weather.

DAWKINS WINS TRYOUT BOUT

Victoria Fighter Given Decision When Opponent Disqualified in Toronto

Canadian Press
Toronto, May 13.—Few upsets, but bruising battles broke marked a marathon fight show here yesterday evening as close to 100 leather-pusher started the annual march toward the Canadian throne of amateur fistiana.

Four technical knockouts dotted the results, but so closely were the young boxers mated that an outright "K.O." was not experienced.

In the first interprovincial bout, Alfred Carbonetti, Ottawa, and Arnold Dawkins, Victoria, bantams, put on a hard fought match. Carbonetti was disqualified in the second round for holding, after disregarding the referee's repeated warning.

First of last year's titleholders faded from the 1932 picture was Joe Blahick of Port William. The middleweight crown was blown from the sturdy leader's brow by the hurricane unleashed by Ken Robinson, two-fisted scrapper of Camp Borden, Ont.

It was a technical knockout win in the second round.

Sole other unlooked for result in the long night of bruising fights came when Tommy Nelson, who carried the bantamweight title to his Winnipeg home last year, was put out of the heavier featherweight class by the brilliance of Jimmy Fisher, Hamilton, Ont. Nelson's extra avoirdupois appeared to have robbed him of the lightning speed which carried him to the top of the 1931 heap.

Holder of the Quebec bantam championship, Eddie Heatfield of Montreal showed class to score a technical knockout over Eddie Carroll of Toronto. Another bout that was halted by the referee in the final round saw "Big Bill" Match, Hamilton heavy, win over Willie Brown of Toronto.

Success fell to the battering mits of Tommy Hall, Winnipeg bantam, who stepped out with a technical "K.O." win over Gilbert Collins, Ottawa hopeful.

HARD LUCK BATTLES
Hard luck man of the night was W. Pollard, broad-shouldered Edmonton featherweight, who outlasted Nels Scarell of Port William in the evening's goriest set to. Along with the decision, Pollard got a cash over the right eye that required stitches, and it was feared he might be forced out of further competition.

Arni Johansson of Winnipeg, the featherweight champion, successfully outlasted Eddie McIntyre, Port William, but only after a stiff test.

In another good bout Johnny Keller, Montreal 120-pounder, outpunched Ray Cook, Toronto, in a heavy hitting affair.

SEMI-FINAL OF PEDEN CUP HERE

Only Senior Football Billed For Saturday; Joker Juniors Going to Nanaimo

In the only senior football match here to-morrow afternoon Equipteam, city and Lower Island football champs, will meet Victoria City in the semi-final round of the Peden Cup series. The game will be handled by Woodley and will be played at the Heywood Avenue Park ground, starting at 2:45 o'clock.

It is hoped that a large crowd will be on hand to see this semi-final match, since the proceeds will go to the injured players' fund.

The Esquimalt team will line up as follows: De Costa, Mether, Nicol, Pepin, Williams, Sweeney, R. Stewart, A. Stewart, John Watt, Wagland and Burns.

JUNIOR FINAL
The junior Jokers eleven, under Manager Tommy Rickinson, will journey to Nanaimo to-morrow afternoon to play Cumberland Eagles in the final of the Junior Province Cup football series at 5 o'clock. The squad will leave from the City Hall at 1:15 o'clock. Fans wishing to make the trip are asked to communicate with Manager Rickinson right away.

The Jokers line-up will be: Baxter, Rickinson, Souleby, Peace, Robinson, Kennedy, Bell, Murgare, Des Crofton, Gibson, Cowden; reserves, Painter and Lorandini.

May Establish New Senior "B" Loop For Local Rugby Teams

Proposal to Be Given Special Consideration by Committee Redrafting Victoria Rugby Union Constitution; Russell Ker Elected President of Body; V. L. Denton, Retiring Head, Expresses Dissatisfaction With Arrangements Made by Canadian Union Regarding Japanese Tour

When Victoria's 1932-33 rugby season opens in the last week of October, teams will probably be playing in leagues materially changed from those which held the spotlight last year, according to a suggestion made at the annual meeting of the local union in the Chamber of Commerce yesterday evening. The proposal, which will be investigated by a special committee of Charlie Morton, Carew Martin and H. J. Ketchen, who will also redraft the constitution, may abolish the Intermediate League and set up a senior "B" organization in its place. The object of the proposed switch, it is understood, would be to make players interchangeable between the two higher divisions and give everybody a game. At present spares on senior teams cannot compete in the intermediate league.

To Contest B.C. Cue Championship

A 4,000-point billiards match between Bert Irish, leading local professional, and Chris Owens, mainland expert, has been arranged for the Metropolitan Parlor here, starting Tuesday at 8 o'clock in the evening. This match, which is for the British Columbia championship, will be the first time for many years a provincial cue match has been played here. Owens recently won the mainland championship from Sir Boys, and the local expert's challenge soon followed. A thousand points will be played each night, the match ending Friday.

NEW OFFICERS NAMED
Russell Ker, popular leader of the Fifth Brigade, vice-president last year, was elected president of the local union. A. R. Morton was named first vice-president and Carew Martin, second vice-president. R. D. "Bob" Travis and Fred Cabeldu were returned to the posts of treasurer and secretary respectively. Denny Diespecker was re-appointed leader of the intermediate division and R. H. "Bob" McInnes was chosen to look after the school leagues. Arthur Cox was appointed auditor.
V. L. Denton, recently elected president of the British Columbia Rugby Union, was presented with a silver cigarette case by the local body as a token of its appreciation of his services during the last five or six years.

SEATTLE GOLF TEAM COMING

Match With Victoria Golf Club to Take Place Here All Day To-morrow

The first half of the annual team match between golfers of the Seattle Golf Club and the Victoria Golf Club will be played at the Oak Bay links all day to-morrow. Singles will be the order in the morning and fourballs in the afternoon. The players contesting the singles will go out in fours to save time.

The best ball matches will start as soon after lunch as possible. The second half of the match will take place in Seattle in the afternoon, and the winning team will have the name of the club engraved on each of two plaques.

The morning draw and starting times follow, following teams being first mentioned in each case:

9:00—H. D. Taylor and I. F. Dick vs. H. J. Davis and H. G. Garrett.
9:15—H. A. Flesher and M. M. McEwen vs. Alex. Watson and J. R. Matson.

9:30—William Pigott and S. L. Russell vs. Harold Wilson and A. S. G. Murgare (captain).

9:45—C. W. Correll and Theo Owens vs. Don Campbell and Ken Stevens.
9:50—G. A. Shannon and I. C. Calvert (captain) vs. Harold Haynes and Stanley Haynes.

9:55—W. Donahoe and R. H. Coffin vs. R. B. Wilson and W. H. M. Haldane.
10:00—A. A. Grey and Curtis Harold vs. V. A. Macrae and A. T. Coward.

10:05—C. F. Boyce and W. F. Ford vs. H. F. Hepburn and R. Peachey.
10:10—H. H. Evans and A. A. Nordhoff vs. H. P. Johnson and John Hart.

10:15—A. Brygger and E. L. Sied vs. W. B. Wilson and S. W. Pangman.
10:20—C. B. Ford and P. H. Henry vs. R. H. Edgell and L. S. York.

10:25—Dr. J. D. Balfour and W. B. Leach.
10:30—W. Miller and Otto Rupp vs. W. L. McIntosh and Col. A. A. Sharland.

10:35—C. R. Shaw and C. L. Mallow vs. T. O. Mackay and A. B. Crump.
10:40—W. V. Tamer and W. D. MacDonald vs. J. E. Wilson and J. F. Dick.

10:45—J. H. Bloedel and R. D. White vs. R. W. Gibson and J. Morris.
10:50—C. B. Shorts and L. G. Pattullo vs. W. S. Campbell and Col. Lightbody.

10:55—J. R. Stritt and J. Gray.
11:00—H. H. Evans and A. A. Nordhoff vs. H. P. Johnson and John Hart.

11:05—J. F. Fyfe-Smith, president of the Canadian Union had informed him the Dominion body did not intend to let go of a cent it had collected from Japan. Mr. Fyfe-Smith was apparently saving the money for that purpose, coming from the Orient for the nucleus of another trip fund to some place some time in the future, he said. A financial statement on the matter was still awaited, he said.

The city had paid its way and was not broke, as a result of the last season. He hoped the union would always have some money in advance. After voicing a plea for grounds, he stated he believed the point had been reached where teams competing in the league should be restricted. He favored a four-team senior "B" organization.

INJURED PLAYERS
Regarding the injured players fund, he said claims should be sent into the trustees of the fund at the end of the season and disbursement would be made by them from the money available as equitably as possible. The union was not responsible for injuries, he declared.

Appreciation was voiced of the work of the press, coaches, officials and players.

WARNED FRAISED
High tribute to the activities of the men associated with the union and the players themselves was paid by Fred Cabeldu in presenting the secretary's report.

He was particularly warm in his praise of R. D. Travis, treasurer, through whose careful management the finances of the union had been guarded.

As far as rugby had been concerned, the season had been highly successful, he said.

He referred to the capture of the McKeehan Cup by Victoria this year and expressed the hope the prized trophy, displayed at the meeting, would stay in the city for some time. He also gave a summary of the other cups won and lost here during the year.

Bob McInnes and Ernie Butterworth, coaches of the McKeehan Cup team, were highly commended.

Mr. Diespecker reported on the success of the intermediate league.

JAPANESE TRIP TROUBLE
Difficulties faced and surmounted by the union in which funds had to be met were sketched by V. L. Denton in the president's report. He criticized the action of certain Canadian Rugby Union leaders in assuming dictatorial powers in regard to the Japanese tour. Victoria had been forced to "buy" the places of their men on the team while no other union had been required to put up such a sum.

Both Victoria and Vancouver had been misled regarding the number of players that would be given places on the team from Eastern Canada, he continued, saying it was a lucky thing for the team the six Victorians had been included in it.

SEEK GUARANTEE RETURN
He expressed great dissatisfaction with the method in which funds had been handled. Victoria would like the return of the money it had put up for the local boys on the tour.

J. Fyfe-Smith, president of the Canadian Union had informed him the Dominion body did not intend to let go of a cent it had collected from Japan. Mr. Fyfe-Smith was apparently saving the money for that purpose, coming from the Orient for the nucleus of another trip fund to some place some time in the future, he said. A financial statement on the matter was still awaited, he said.

The city had paid its way and was not broke, as a result of the last season. He hoped the union would always have some money in advance.

After voicing a plea for grounds, he stated he believed the point had been reached where teams competing in the league should be restricted. He favored a four-team senior "B" organization.

First Division Matches To Open Series In City

Kingston Street and Victoria Lawn to Meet in First Fixtures; Senior Matches Brought Forward to Complete Schedule in Time for Other Tournaments; Third Division Goes Into Operation on June 4 and Second Division on June 12

Victoria's official tennis tournament season will open on May 29, when the first match in the Vancouver Island Tennis League will be played. Secretary Terry Peers has released the schedules which show forty-two matches are on tap for the league season, inclusive of league play-offs. Kingston Street and Victoria have drawn the opening assignment and they will meet at Kingston Street on Sunday, May 29, in a first division engagement. The forty-two fixtures will see some two hundred players representing local tennis clubs in action.

The first division will start earlier than the others, due to the necessity of completing the schedule before the regular tournaments commence. The third division will start at C.P.R. on June 4 when the home club will meet the champion Victoria Club squad, winners last year. The second division will start on June 12 and regular fixtures will be the order until late in July when the play-offs will take place.

KRUSE LOSES TOUGH BOUT

Bob Meets Mark in Hardy New York Grappler

Vancouver, May 13.—Bob Kruse, Portland squirm, found his rough and tumble tactics of no avail against Don Leroy De Laun, New York, and as a result the New Yorker with the fancy name captured the decision in the first half of a double main event wrestling bill here yesterday evening.

Kruse attempted to rough up De Laun early in the match but got back as good as he gave. The later rounds found the Portlander following his usual custom of resorting to the ropes when in difficulties.

De Laun captured the only fall of the bout in the fifth round of the scheduled six-round affair with a body press. Both men weighed 200.

Ted Thye, Portland, captured the verdict in the other half of the double bill, taking two out of three falls from Jack Smith, Oklahoma. Thye drew first blood in the second round with a series of armlocks. Smith came back strong in the third and before thirty-four seconds had elapsed had squared the match with flying scissors and bar arm. Referee Draper awarded Thye the match in the fourth, however, when the Oklahoma, after taking a lot of punishment was half thrown through the ropes and unable to return to the ring.

Thye weighed 192, Smith 215.

In the opening event on the card, Jack McLaughlin, Vancouver middleweight, took the call over Pete Becker, California, when the Californian after conceding a fall in the third, failed to return to the ring for the fourth and final round. McLaughlin used a step over toehold to gain the fall.

McLaughlin weighed in at 154. Becker at 157.

Track Tests On To-morrow

The Y.M.C.A. running tests, in which the association intends to train its members for standard distances and also to give outsiders a chance to compete against the leading "Y" runners, will open to-morrow at the Victoria High School grounds.

Coach Archie McKinnon plans to run a seventy-yard sprint for men training for the century dash, a 600-yard race for those practicing for the half mile and a high jump contest.

The first event will be staged at 3 o'clock.

Sanction for the use of the school ground was granted to the association this morning by the School Board.

RECORD ENTRY FOR DOG SHOW

Great Collection of Canine Blue-bloods Assembled For Event To-morrow

Visitors to the Victoria City Kennel Club show at the Armories to-morrow will be greeted by the largest and possibly the most valuable collection of champion dogs that has ever been brought together by the club. Included in the thirty-two of these aristocrats are English Pugs, Pekinese Pointers, German Shepherds, Chow, Yorkshire Terriers, Dandie Dinmonts, Daschunds, Alredies and many others. During the evening session the grand champion class will enter the judging ring, when both the judges will be on duty to select the champion. Judging will be done by one of the group system, until finally one representative of each of the five groups is left in the ring to fight for supreme honors.

In the usual classes 230 of the best dogs from California, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia will vie with each other for their championship points, from the diminutive Pomeranian of two and one-half pounds in weight to the lordly St. Bernard.

The bulldog will represent England; the Labrador retriever, Labrador; and the Japanese spaniel, Japan; China will be represented by the Pekingese; Thibetan by the terrier and chow; Switzerland, by the St. Bernard; the United States by the Boston Terrier, Wales by the Sealyham and Welsh terrier; Germany by the Doberman Pinscher, Schnauzer and German shepherd, and Scotland by the Cairn, Scottish and Dandie Dinmont terriers and collies. Practically every recognized breed will be represented throughout the 300 classes.

Judging of the toy group by Mrs. Alsen will commence at 11 o'clock in the morning, and simultaneously A. W. Forbes will commence to judge the terriers, and it is anticipated that these two groups will be finished by lunch, which will leave the afternoon free for the judging of the gun dogs, working and non-sporting types. The evening will be occupied by the judging for specials, including best terrier, best toy, best sporting, best non-sporting and best working dog and best dog in the show and many others.

In view of the number of children who have signified their intention of competing in the handlers' class in the afternoon, the committee has decided to judge the boys and girls separately.

JOKERS, TODDS GO INTO LEAD

Four-cornered Tie in Westholme Softball League Broken Yesterday

STANDING	Won	Lost	Points
Jokers	3	1	6
Todds	3	1	6
Colwood Wood	2	2	4
Ross Bay	2	2	4
McMorse	2	2	4
Cameron	0	4	0

The four-place tie at the top of the Westholme Softball League was broken yesterday evening when the Jokers staged a tremendous last-minute onslaught to gain a 12-4 victory over Colwood Wood Company, and the Moose Lodge sprung a surprise to take Ross Bay down the line, 19-13, Todds, by a 15-2 victory, over Cameron's Malted Milk, are still tied with Jokers for the top place.

The Jokers-Colwood game brought together two of the four league leaders and was close up to the seventh. At that point the eventual winners had a 4-3 lead, but a spurt in the closing innings brought them eight additional runs and victory in what was one of the most thrilling games to date.

MOOSE SPRING SURPRISE
With Art Carr, star chucker of the Moose, relieving Hardy in the last half of the game and pitching in great style, the lodgemen pulled Ross Bay down from the top berth by chalking up a sweet 19-13 victory. It was the second straight victory for the Moose and puts them in a triple tie for second place. The Ross Bay nine worked to turn up till the fifth and had a 10-5 lead, but from that point on the lodge-men dominated the scene and outscored their opponents by 14-3.

Todds maintained their part hold on the top rung by reason of a comfortable 15-2 victory over Camerons.

and the winner of each will receive a handsome trophy and the rest a gift of candy. Any child wishing to compete who has not a dog entered in the show will be provided with one. Only dogs previously entered can be used.

SHOW FOR FIRST TIME
Thibetan terriers will be on exhibition for the first time in Victoria, and they will be greatly admired for their coats and wonderful dispositions.

The last entry to be received for this event was for "Check and Double Check," a Scottish terrier, who is being shipped by express from North Hollywood to endeavor to gain the laurels for California. Lovers of this breed will have the pleasure of seeing no less than nine imported dogs competing for championship points, including "Merlewood Rose," at one time owned by Mrs. Nanties of the O'Balgonie Kennels, Victoria. This bitch was awarded the trophy at the recent Seattle show for the best dog of all breeds in the show.

Cub Bobbles Give Braves Easy Win; Cards Beat Phils

Chicago's Lead Over Boston Cut to Two Games by Latter's Victory; Babe Phelps Pitches Dodgers to Smart Win Over Cincinnati; Montreal Climbs Steadily in Race With Newark

By GAYLE TALBOT, A.P. Sports Writer
Bill McKechnie's Boston Braves may not win the National League flag this year, but they promise to establish a lasting record for demoralizing the opposition. In twenty-two games the battling Bostonians have been helped along by forty-eight opponents' errors, an average of more than two per contest, and in only six games have their rivals failed to boot at least one. It affords one of the very good reasons why the Braves are in second place to-day.

Facing Boston for the first time yesterday, Chicago Cubs were limited in number of errors only by the fact they had to deal after nine innings. In the allotted time they managed to compile seven, more than sufficient to give the Braves an 8-to-3 victory behind E. Brandt.

The Cubs' prize young infielders, Bill Herman and Bill Jurgens, divided most of the hard luck between them. Herman with four errors and Jurgens with two. The loss cut Chicago's lead over the Braves to two games.

PHILIPS PITCHES FINE GAME

Brooklyn Dodgers won first blood in their long-awaited series with Cincinnati, 5 to 2, as Babe Phelps hurled scoreless ball after the first inning. Jess Haines made his initial start of the year for the St. Louis Cardinals and was good enough to beat the Phils 8 to 2. The Cards knocked Jim Elliott from the hill in the second.

The Giants' opener at Pittsburgh was rained out; and only one of four American League engagements escaped the elements. Cleveland nosed out the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 4, when Dick Porter's double scored Cissel after two were out in the ninth.

MONTREAL WINS AGAIN

Unbeatable for two weeks, the Montreal Royals had pushed into a virtual tie with the Newark Bears for the International League lead to-day on the wings of a thirteen-game winning streak. The Royals now have won seventeen games and lost nine, compared to Newark's record of fifteen and seven. The percentages, however, still favor Newark, .582 to .554.

The Royals' latest victory, a 6-2 conquest of the Baltimore Orioles yesterday, did not come without a struggle. Taucher, on the mound for the Orioles, was in rare form for seven innings and held a 2-0 lead going into the last half of the eighth after Regan's double drove in a pair of runs in the second. But in the eighth the Royals drove him to cover and continued a bombardment against Baryl Richmond that finally netted six runs and the ball game.

Newark, meanwhile, was finding Del Wetherell of the Rochester Redwings a constant puzzle to a 4-0 beating was the result. Jim Weaver gave the Redwings only five hits, but lost his own game through wildness. He walked seven men all told; two of them with the bases filled in the first inning. George Prucnell, Rochester outfielder, hit safely in his twenty-second straight game and boosted his batting average to an even .500.

BISONS WIN EASILY

Buffalo's Bisons, in third place, trounced Reading, 10-1. Joe Bloomer gave up only three hits and Reading failed to get a man past first base until Barton clouted a homer with two out in the ninth.

Toronto and Jersey City split a double bill, the Skidders winning the opener, 7-3, and Toronto the second game, 4-1.

Wheat Buying For European Account Aids Winnipeg Pit

Winnipeg, May 13.—Firm Liverpool wheat quotations and buying for continental account gave a fractional lift to wheat prices in the grain pit to-day. Steady at the opening, wheat closed 1/4 to 1/2 higher for the day.

May closed 1/4 higher at 62 1/2; July, 1/4 higher at 63 1/2; October, 1/4 higher at 65 1/2.

Opening slightly higher, the market held to higher levels throughout. Lack of offerings, more than anything else, accounted for the firm tone.

Broomhall reported a lessening of selling pressure from the Argentine and predicted Europe soon would need foodstuffs. Australian and Argentine surpluses are below normal, he said.

Demand was shown for numbers 3 and 4 northern cash wheat at spreads 1/4 higher. Barley for export featured 1/4 higher. The coarse grains section. Prices were little changed.

To-day's Grain Markets

WINNIPEG

(By Logan & Bryan)

Winnipeg, May 13.—Wheat—The market started off fractionally higher this morning and held steady and firm throughout the session. During the first period there was fair buying going on for export account, but this was offset to some extent by considerable selling of October by Chicago interests.

After the first half-hour the market turned quiet with very little of feature going on, but Chicago, which had been dragging at the start, firmed up to fractionally higher than the previous close, and held Winnipeg right on the offers most of the day.

Export sales overnight were estimated at 500,000 bushels in all positions, mostly Manitoba. The spread on No. 1 hard was off 1/4 cent, while other spreads were unchanged to 1/4 better. Millers reported no change in the flour situation, which remains quiet in both domestic and export channels.

There were no rains or showers over the North American wheat belt and temperatures were warm. Seeding operations are making excellent progress in the wheat prairie provinces, with present conditions quite favorable, but southern areas in Saskatchewan will shortly be needing rains. Reports from winter wheat belt continue decidedly mixed. Deterioration is claimed in some sections, but in most states improvement is shown. Russian dry is being found in quite an extensive area, but so far damage has been slight.

Argentine shipments this week are down to 3,500,000 bushels, while Australia exports 3,317,000 bushels of wheat, of which 11,000 cleared for non Europe. Winnipeg May is showing some signs of weakness.

Winnipeg futures closed 1/4 to 1/2 higher.

Coarse grains—Oats continue strong. There is not much business passing except a small domestic trade to eastern Canada. Offerings are very light and stocks which are light are strongly held. Barley is being sold in quite a dull with no demand from any quarter.

Oats closed 1/4 to 1/2 higher, barley 1/4 to 1/2 lower, rye 1/4 higher to 1/2 off. May was dull and featureless. Closing prices 1/4 to 1/2 higher.

With Liverpool closed until Tuesday markets on this side will be without that leadership, but believe wheat should be bought on minor recessions.

C.P.R. HITS NEW MONTREAL LOW

(By Logan & Bryan)

Montreal, May 13.—Weakness was apparent on the Montreal Stock Exchange in late trading to-day, and at the close prices ended new low ground with various finishing at their lows of the day. Trading was quiet.

Canadian Pacific Railway was subjected to special pressure as rails in the stock market were established at a new all-time low of 11 1/2, down from 11 3/4, off 1/4 from yesterday's close.

Shawinigan Power released from its minimum price of 33 plunged down to 11, an all-time low, where it was off 22 points. Steel of Canada also recorded a new low for the year at 13, down a point.

British Columbia Power "A" lost 1/4 at 19 1/2, while the "B" issue was firm at 4 1/2. National Steel declined 1/4 at 4 1/2. Hollinger was the lone advance, being up five cents at 4 1/2.

Dominion Bridge held unchanged at 11, as did Canada Cement at 3 1/2. Dominion Steel and Coal at 1 1/2 and Dominion Textile at 40.

TORONTO MINES SLIP SLIGHTLY

(By Logan & Bryan)

Toronto, May 13.—Standard Stock and Mining Exchange listings sold almost uniformly lower in afternoon trading to-day, having pursued an irregular course during the morning. Volume was not heavy.

Noranda and International Nickel were chief sufferers, losing about half a dollar each. Hudson Bay dropped 15 cents, and smaller losses were shown by Eldorado, Mining Corporation and B.C. Pioneer.

Donora and the heaviest loss in the gold group, selling 20 cents lower, slightly under 81. Wright-Hargreaves, Teck-Hughes, Premier, Barry-Hollinger, Howar and Sisco also recorded losses. Gains were shown by Kirkland Lake, Ventures, Hollinger and McIntyre, the latter two issues rising 15 and 25 cents, respectively.

Oils were dull and mostly unchanged. Acme was off somewhat at 10.

RENO ACTIVE AT VANCOUVER

(By Logan & Bryan)

Vancouver, May 13.—Reno Gold was the chief trader in a rather weak market during the forenoon session of the day. The afternoon session of the day was quiet, with a few trades in the afternoon.

Canadian Pacific was quiet, but while the trade in futures was quiet much of the day, there was no great pressure, and on the other hand there was some commission house demand.

Primary arrivals 225,000 vs. 443,000 bushels year ago. Argentine shipments 2,771,000 bushels for the week. Wheat arrivals 2,771,000 bushels year ago. There is fine and there is rapid progress in planting operations. Total deliveries 160,000 bushels.

Corn: As in other grains the trade was moderate most of the day and without feature. Cash demand fair. Crop news is favorable. Primary arrivals 2,771,000 bushels year ago. The large arrivals 2,771,000 bushels year ago. There is fine and there is rapid progress in planting operations. Total deliveries 160,000 bushels.

Rye was in better demand on the outside, and there was some buying of the rye against sales of wheat in the early trade. The export inquiry appeared to be quiet for the time being.

COUNCIL HEARS JUBILEE REPORT

Oak Bay Is Only Municipality
With Favorable Balance,
Council Is Advised

During the first three months of the year the Jubilee Hospital rendered services amounting to $6,224 for residents of Oak Bay. Of this amount 13 per cent was classed as indigent, which totaled $827.75. Oak Bay residents paid $4,206.70 for services received.

Part-payments received amounted to $1,287.55. Oak Bay's grant to the hospital totaled $1,692.80, made up of $1,192.80, based on seventy cents a day per patient; an extra grant of $500 and the indigent account of $827.75. These facts were placed before the Oak Bay council yesterday in a report from D. D. Muir, secretary of the board of directors. The report stated that Oak Bay was the only municipality with a favorable balance.

Chief of Police John Symes advised the council to make alterations to the roadway at King George Terrace where a fatal accident occurred two weeks ago. He said the road is particularly narrow at that point, and he recommended the pole be removed from the curve and that the curve be rounded off. The members of the works committee will make a survey of the road before the engineer's department goes ahead with the work. It will be done immediately.

Complaint about the condition of the road at the corner of Monteth Street and Bowker Avenue was made yesterday by J. E. Jeffcott of 1812 Monteth Street. For some time, he said, certain householders have appropriated to their own use a large portion of public highway, in some instances amounting to about twenty-seven feet. Shrubs have been planted right out to the roadbed, so that pedestrians are endangered by motor traffic. The matter will be investigated and a report made to the council.

An invitation was extended by the Equimait municipality to the reeve and councilors of Oak Bay to attend the annual Equimait school sports on May 23. It will be arranged to have Oak Bay officially represented.

Children Suffered With Eczema Nine Months. Cuticura Healed.

"Two of my children suffered with eczema. It broke out in pimples on their faces and heads and was of a wet nature. It itched so badly that my baby could not sleep night or day, and was so cross and fretful that I got no rest. The trouble lasted about nine months. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and it helped them, and after using two boxes of the Ointment, together with the Cuticura Soap, they were completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. Wm. G. Jewers, Moser River, N.S.

DENMARK TAKES DAVIS CUP PLAY

Copenhagen, Denmark, May 13.—Denmark yesterday defeated Yugoslavia in a second round series of Davis Cup play, winning the doubles yesterday for victory in the first three matches. Denmark will meet Japan, which defeated Greece, in the third round.

Davis Cup record second only to that of the United States in number of victories, returned to the international tennis play to-day after the absence of a year when Jack Crawford led his team against Cuba.

The players from the Antipodes have won the famous cup seven times since it was put into competition by Dwight W. Davis in 1900, a record surpassed only by the eleven victories of the United States.
